At the Thirty-fourth Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held in Exeter Hall, Strand, on Tuesday, May 6, 1834.

The Most Hon. MARQUESS CHOLMONDELEY, Vice-Patron, in the Chair.

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE HAVING BEEN READ BY THE CLERICAL SECRETARY,

On a Motion by the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Winchester, seconded by Lieutenant-Colonel Phipps,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Report, an Abstract of which has been read, be received and printed under the direction of the Committee; and that, while this Meeting, with mingled feelings of gratitude and humility, records its thanks to Almighty God for the success which has marked the Foreign Operations of the Society, and for the large increase of its Pecuniary Resources, it recognises, in these circumstances, powerful obligations to persevering exertions and believing prayer.

On a Motion by the Right Hon. the Earl of Chichester, seconded by the Rev. John William Cunningham, Vicar of Harrow,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That this Meeting, viewing the rapid increase of knowledge in British India, together with the prospect of enlarged intercourse between this Country and her Eastern Possessions, and even with remoter Nations, deeply feels the duty of prosecuting, with augmented activity, the plans long established and acted upon by the Society, for making known throughout that vast population the unsearchable riches of Christ.

On a Motion by John P. Plumptre, Esq., M.P., seconded by the Rev. Hugh Stowell, Minister of St. Stephen's, Manchester,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That while this Meeting contemplates, with unfeigned gratitude to God, the noble act of the British Legislature for the extinction of Slavery, it feels that the duty of this Society is more imperative than ever, promptly to employ its agency, to impart to the emancipated population of our Colonies the richer blessings of the Gospel.

On a Motion by the Rev. James Scholefield, Regius Professor of Greek in the University of Cambridge, seconded by the Rev. James Haldane Stewart, Minister of St. Bride's, Liverpool,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That while this Meeting learns with lively satisfaction the favourable state of the Society's Institution at Islington, and the cheering progress of the Society's Missions, it remarks with much concern, the small number of the Students under preparation in the Institution; and earnestly calls upon the Members of the Society to make it a subject of special prayer, that He, with whom is the residue of the Spirit, may prepare and send forth Labourers in largely-increased numbers, to bear the name of Christ before the Heathen throughout the Society's different Missions.

On a Motion by Sir Oswald Moseley, Bart., M.P., seconded by the Rev. Edward Bickersteth, Rector of Watton, Herts,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the thanks of this Meeting be given to the Rev. Professor Scholefield for his Sermon preached before the Society last evening; to the Vice-Patrons, and Vice-Presidents; and to all those friends, who, during the past year, have exerted themselves in its behalf: and that the following Gentlemen be appointed the Committee for the year ensuing, with power to fill up Vacancies. (See List, after Vice-Presidents.)

V. Members and Governors of Associations who contribute the above sums shall be considered as Members and Governors of the Parent Society.

VI. The Committee shall have the power of appointing such persons as have rendered essential services to the Society, either Members for Life, or Governors for Life.

OF GENERAL MEETINGS.

VII. An Annual Meeting of the Members of the Society shall be held in London, on the First Tuesday in May; unless that day shall fall on the 7th of May, in which case the Annual Meeting shall be held, for that year, on Tuesday, the 30th of April; when the Proceedings of the foregoing year shall be reported, the Accounts presented, and a Treasurer and Committee chosen.

VIII. A Special General Meeting of the Members of the Society, at which not less than Thirty shall constitute a Quorum, shall be called at any time, at the requisition of the General Committee; or by any Thirteen Members, on addressing a Letter to the Secretary, specifying the object of the Meeting. Ten days' notice shall be given in Three public Newspapers, of any such intended Meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called; which shall be deemed sufficient publicity.

IX. None of the Rules of the Society shall be repealed or altered, nor any new ones established, but at the Annual Meeting, or at a Special Meeting called for that purpose.

X. An Anniversary Sermon shall be preached at some Church in London, by a Clergyman appointed by the General Committee. An Annual Report of the Society shall be printed, for the use of its Members.

OF THE COMMITTEE.

XI. The Committee shall consist of Twenty-four Lay Members of the Established Church; and of all such Clergymen as are Members of the Society. Eighteen Members shall be annually appointed from the Old Committee, and Six from the General Body.

XII. The COMMITTEE shall elect, at their First Meeting in every year, either from among themselves, or from the other Members of the Society (being Members of the Established Church) a Committee of Patronage, a Committee of Funds, a Committee of Correspondence, and a Committee of Accounts. Each of the said Committees shall keep Minutes of its Proceedings, and shall report the same to the General Committee.

XIII. The office of the Committee of Patronage is, to procure patronage and support to the Society; and to nominate, to the General Committee, proper persons, as Patrons, Vice-Patrons, and Vice-Presidents of the Society.

XIV. The office of the Committee of Funds is, to circulate information respecting the Society; to adopt proper means of augmenting the Subscriptions and Benefactions; to obtain Collections in Churches and Chapels; and to nominate, from time to time, to the General Committee, suitable persons to act as Agents for the Society in the principal Towns throughout the Empire.

XV. The office of the Committee of Correspondence is, to seek for proper Missionaries, to superintend their instruction, and to correspond with them when sent out.

XVI. The office of the Committee of Accounts is, to see that the Subscriptions are duly received, regulate the accounts, and undertake the charge of fitting out and conveying the Missionaries to their places of destination.

XVII. The General Committee shall receive the Reports of the other Committees, shall appoint the places where Missions shall be attempted, shall direct the scale upon which they shall be conducted, and shall superintend the affairs of the Society in general.

XVIII. The General Committee shall meet on the Second Monday in every Month, and oftener if needful; the other Committees as often; and at such places as shall be by them agreed on: their Meetings to be always opened with reading a Form of Prayer composed for that purpose, or one or more suitable Prayers selected from the Liturgy. Five Members shall be necessary to compose a General Committee; and Three, each of the others. In case of equality of votes, the Chairman shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

XIX. The Patrons, Vice-Patrons, and President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Secretaries, shall be considered ex-officio Members of all Committees.

XX. Governors, being Members of the Established Church, shall be entitled to attend and vote at all Meetings of the General Committee.

XXI. All Payments on account of the Society shall be signed by Three of the General Committee, in Committee, and the Lay Secretary.

XXII. The Committee shall have power to appoint such Officers and Assistants as they shall deem necessary for the well-conducting of the affairs of the Society, subject to the approbation of the next Annual Meeting.

XXIII. Five Auditors shall be appointed by the Committee, annually, for the purpose of auditing the Accounts of the Society; of whom, Three shall be chosen from the General Body. Three shall be a Quorum.

XXIV. The Life Subscriptions, or a sufficient part thereof, to be equal to the Subscriptions of the existing Members for Life, shall be placed in the Public Funds, in the names of Four of the General Committee; who, on their acceptance of the trust, shall sign a declaration of the nature of it, and that they will relinquish the same whenever called upon for that purpose by the General Committee.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXV. In the appointment of Candidates for the Missionary Office, the following course shall be pursued:——The Committee of Correspondence having found a person supposed to be suitable, shall determine by ballot to nominate him to the General Committee. Previous to the day of nomination, each Member of the General Committee shall receive notice of such nomination. On the day of nomination, a report shall be made, by some Member of the Committee of Correspondence, of his qualifications; and the General Committee shall then proceed to ballot for him, unless any Member shall declare that he wishes for further information; in which case the ballot shall be deferred till the next Meeting of the General Committee. In the ballot of either Committee, the agreement of at least Three-fourths of the Members present shall be necessary to his election.

XXVI. A Candidate thus chosen shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVII. If, during such preparation, any Two Members of the General Committee should see cause to disapprove of his principles or conduct, they may submit the subject to a Special Meeting of the Committee; and, if deemed proper, the Committee may appoint another ballot, to determine whether he shall be continued as a Candidate; of which special notice shall be given to each Member.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself as engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time, which the Committee shall choose: respect, however, being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society. As soon as he quits England, he shall keep a regular Journal of his studies and proceedings; a copy of which he shall send, as often as opportunity shall serve, to the Secretaries.

XXIX. Each Candidate, after due preparation, shall, if not admitted to Holy Orders, be appointed by the Committee to act as a Catechist. If admitted to Holy Orders, he shall be appointed a Missionary.

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the General Committee: and after having laboured in the cause of the Society to the satisfaction of the Committee, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, suitable provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable. The General Committee shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon his designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He "prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

CHURCH MISSIONARY ASSOCIATIONS.

WHEN a disposition appears in any place to assist the designs of the Society by establishing an Association in its support, a Meeting of persons favourable to such a measure should be called. The friends who meet for this purpose should form themselves into a "Church Missionary Association, in aid of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East;" and should proceed to appoint a Committee and proper Officers.

In large Towns, comprehending several Parishes, it may be expedient to appoint a President, Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, and a Secretary; with a pretty numerous Committee, composed of persons from the different Parishes.

In Parochial Associations, a Treasurer, a Secretary, and a smaller Committee, under the Presidency of the Clergyman, may be best suited to conduct the business.

It may sometimes be found expedient to form Associations in Separate Congregations in the same Parish, rather than one Association in the Parish at large; and in this case, also, a Treasurer, Secretary, and Committee, under the Presidency of the Clergyman, will suffice to accomplish the object.

In a Voluntary Union of Friends, whether the members of the same family, the children of a school, or persons connected by affinity or friendship, such arrangements may be made as may prove most convenient to themselves.

In this manner, Benevolent Persons, willing to assist the designs of the Society, from the domestic circle to the largest town, may unite for a purpose most beneficial to their own minds, while it expresses a due regard to the glory of God in the salvation of the Heathen, and a proper sense of their own infinite obligations to Divine Mercy.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS SUITABLE FOR ASSOCIATIONS.

I. Annual Members of this Association shall be, all persons subscribing annually One Guinea or upward, or, if Clergymen, Half-a-Guinea; and also such Persons as shall collect in its behalf One Shilling or upward per week.

II. Life Members shall be Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upward, or, if Clergymen, such as shall contribute Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas, and Executors paying bequests of Fifty Pounds.

III. Annual Governors shall be Subscribers of Five Guineas per Annum.

IV. Life Governors shall be Benefactors of Fifty Pounds.

V. Members will be entitled to receive the Reports of this Association, and also the Annual Reports of the Parent Society, and to vote at all their General Meetings; and Collectors of One Shilling and upward per week will receive either a Copy of each Monthly Number of the Church Missionary Record, or the Annual Report of the Parent Society.—Governors will be entitled to receive the Reports; and, if Members of the Established Church, to vote at all Committee and General Meetings of both the Association and the Parent Society.—Clergymen will have the same privilege as Governors.

VI. The business of the Association shall be under the management of a Patron, a President, Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, Secretaries, Governors, and a Committee not exceeding ———— Lay Members of the Established Church, and of all Clergymen who are Members of this Association. The Committee to meet on the ———— in the months of January, April, July, and October, at ———— o'clock; Five Members being competent to act.

VII. The object of the Committee shall be, to call forth the zeal of well-disposed Persons, and particularly those of the Established Church, in support of the Church Missionary Society; and to recommend proper Persons who may offer themselves as Missionaries to the Parent Society—to disperse as widely as possible Missionary Information—to promote the formation of Branch Associations—and to procure Collections and other Contributions.

ZECHARIAH, VI. 12, 13.

AND SPEAK UNTO HIM, SAYING, THUS SPEAKETH THE LORD OF HOSTS, SAYING, BEHOLD THE MAN WHOSE NAME IS THE BRANCH; AND HE SHALL GROW UP OUT OF HIS PLACE, AND HE SHALL BUILD THE TEMPLE OF THE LORD: EVEN HE SHALL BUILD THE TEMPLE OF THE LORD; AND HE SHALL BEAR THE GLORY, AND SHALL SIT AND RULE UPON HIS THRONE; AND HE SHALL BE A PRIEST UPON HIS THRONE: AND THE COUNSEL OF PEACE SHALL BE BETWEEN THEM BOTH.

THERE are few portions of the Sacred Volume more interesting, in a merely historical view, than that which embraces the return of the Jews from the Babylonian Captivity, and the rebuilding of their Temple in Jerusalem. The simple records which exhibit to us that illustrious nation in their day of small things—struggling, amidst reproach and contempt, to erect an edifice in which the God of Heaven should take pleasure and be glorified—attract toward them our liveliest sympathies; and impress us with a feeling, that all the other glories of the Founder of the Persian Monarchy are mean and insipid, in comparison of his being called, as the Shepherd of Jehovah, to say to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be built; and to the Temple, Thy foundation shall be laid[a].

The Temple, thus erected, was to stand in the place of Solomon's; and to those who had seen that House in her first glory, it was in their eyes, in comparison of it, as nothing[b]. It had, however, a glory peculiar to itself, and a peculiar interest attaching to it: for as, in a short time, Prophecy was to cease, and the Canon of the Old Testament to close, and no fresh links were to be added to the golden chain which had held together the hopes of successive generations, fixed with intense desire on the coming Messiah; so the very Temple then building by Zerubbabel and Joshua was to be a standing memorial, to connect together that generation with the age in which the Desire of all Nations should come[c]. And, as it had been treasured up among the prophetic records of their nation, that the Sceptre should not depart from Judah until SHILOH came[d]; so it was a glory reserved for this Second Temple, by which it would surpass the glory of Solomon's, that in this place God would give peace—preaching peace there—by Jesus Christ[e].

The writings of the Prophets, who were raised up to help forward this building, are replete with an interest corresponding, in its character, to that which rests on the Temple itself;—they are full of CHRIST. In the distinct recognition of His Divine character, in the full exhibition of His gracious offices, in the promise of the Holy Ghost given by Him, in notices of His sufferings, and intimations of the glory that should follow, the pages of Zechariah, estimated in proportion to their extent, scarcely yield to any other portion of the Old Testament. And if some of the visions which occupy the former part of his book, as well as the more direct predictions of his latter chapters, are shrouded in much obscurity; yet here, as in the prophetic book which concludes the New Testament, we meet with many passages standing forth in so prominent and unequivocal a character, that they serve as landmarks to guide us in our inquiries into the more abstruse; passages, in which Christ is revealed with such a splendour of evidence, that not only the subject-matter, but the times and circumstances also, are defined with an accuracy not to be mistaken; so that in this, as in His future manifestation, it may be said, Every eye shall see Him![f]

In the passage connected with the text, the Prophet, having finished the detail of those remarkable visions which were given him for his nation's encouragement, records a transaction which took place in Jerusalem soon after the foundation of the Temple had been laid. The Jews, who were still lingering in Babylon—though the decree of Cyrus, which gave them their liberty, and enjoined them to return and build the Temple of the Lord, had been issued about seventeen years before—having heard of the commencement and progress of the work, and desirous of shewing that they remembered the Lord afar off, sent certain of their number with a contribution of gold and silver, intended no doubt to be employed either in adorning the Temple or furnishing materials for the building. The Prophet is directed, by a divine command, to take it, and apply it to a different purpose; one which might lead some grudgingly to ask, as afterward in the case of her who poured the precious ointment on the head of the Saviour, To what purpose is this waste?[g]— but yet one ordained by the wisdom of God, and most calculated, to lead the minds of the desponding Jews to the only sure source of consolation, by setting before them their expected Messiah, as the High Priest of good things to come[h], with the crown of glory upon his head. For thus saith the Word of the Lord to His servant: Take of them of the captivity, even of Heldai, of Tobijah, and of Jedaiah, which are come from Babylon, and come thou the same day, and go into the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah; then take (or, even take) silver and gold, and make crowns, and set them upon the head of Joshua the son of Josedech, the High Priest; and speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh the Lord of Hosts, saying, Behold the Man, whose name is The BRANCH! and He shall grow up out of His place, and He shall build the Temple of the Lord: even He shall build the Temple of the Lord; and He shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon His throne; and He shall be a Priest upon His throne; and the counsel of peace shall be between them both.

[c] Haggai ii. 7. [d] Gen. xlix. 10. [e] Acts x. 36. [f] Rev. i. 7.

[g] Matt. xxvi. 8. [h] Heb. ix. 11.

Assuredly, Brethren, a Greater than Joshua is here! Even upon the surface of these words we discern clear and distinct marks of the glory of Him who is the true Joshua, of whom the sons of Nun and Josedech were types; and whose name was called Jesus, or Joshua, because He should save His people from their sins[1].

May we be enabled, by His Blessed Spirit, so to understand this testimony of Jesus, that we may gather from it motives and encouragements to the prosecution of the Sacred Work in which it is our privilege to be engaged! and may our present meditations be so sanctified, and all our proceedings so regulated, that the pervading spirit of our Society may increasingly be that which is embodied in the words, He shall bear the glory! Even so, Amen!

Our subject is calculated to lead to this result, by directing our attention to three points:—THE PERSON SPOKEN OF—THE WORK ASSIGNED HIM—and, THE REWARD PROMISED HIM.

I. Let us first endeavour to ascertain THE PERSON SPOKEN OF—not merely shadowed forth, but directly and primarily spoken of; so that much that is here said does not relate jointly to Joshua and Jesus, but absolutely and exclusively to the latter. Joshua the son of Josedech is placed immediately before us, and we behold the crowns set upon his head: but when we wait to hear the explanation of a circumstance so remarkable, and the Spirit of prophecy begins to unfold the message it conveys, our eyes are turned away from the human type, and fixed upon One in whom, as in their common centre, all the types, and prophecies, and promises, meet from the very beginning of the world: Behold the Man, whose name is The BRANCH! "Behold," as it is paraphrased by the pious Bishop Hall, "the man who is the true type of the Messiah, that flourishing branch of the stock of Jesse!"

This is a method of speech not unfrequent in this prophet: as in the third chapter, Behold the stone that I have laid before Joshua! where he speaks of the foundation-stone of Zerubbabel's Temple; but the qualities he goes on to describe as belonging to it, are those of the antitype, and not the type. Again, in the fourth chapter: These are the two anointed ones, that stand by the Lord of the whole earth. So, in the present case: the whole tenor of the prophecy shews, that while to the eye of sight nothing is presented but Joshua the son of Josedech, the eye of faith is to discern, under that representation, One of the same name, but of far higher dignity; especially when it is said, in the thirteenth verse, He shall be a Priest upon His throne; and the counsel of peace shall be between them both.

Observe, then, the circumstances of the prophecy; and see how undeniably they all point to Christ, the High Priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect Tabernacle[k].

Mark the form of expression with which it is introduced! If we adhere more closely to the literal exactness of the passage, it is, Behold the Man! His name is The BRANCH.—BEHOLD THE MAN[l]! What memorable and emphatic words! More than five hundred years afterward they were uttered by the lips of the Roman Governor, when he brought Jesus forth from the judgment-hall, wearing the crown of thorns and the purple robe, and set Him before the assembled nation, and bade them gaze on Him, and take knowledge of Him, as one in whom he found no fault at all. And they turned upon Him the eye of scorn and hatred, and cried out, one and all, Crucify Him! Crucify Him!

The text directs our attention, in the same words, to the same Glorious Person, wearing not a crown of thorns, but a crown of gold; but still the same, whether in His humiliation or His glory; whether lifted up on a cross or a throne—exalted as the object of universal regard, that every eye may see Him, that every sinner may look to Him and be saved, that He may be the hope of all the ends of the earth, and the glad tidings of His salvation may be to all people. His atoning sufferings purchase our Redemption; His exaltation to glory completes it. Behold, then, the Man, in His glory and His grace!—THE WORD MADE FLESH[m]—the Son of God taking our nature upon Him, and so presented to us in the typical person of the son of Josedech—and the Son of Man standing at the right hand of God, exalted there to be a Prince and a Saviour[n], and, in the fulness of His glory, carrying on the work of grace, by making intercession for the transgressors![o]

2. Again: His name is The BRANCH.—This name undeniably belongs to the Son of David. He is called by it, in the third chapter of this prophet: Behold, I will bring forth my Servant, The BRANCH! Isaiah foretells Him as The BRANCH, growing out of the roots of Jesse[p];—Jeremiah, as the righteous BRANCH raised unto David, who is also the KING that shall reign and prosper, and whose name shall be, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS[q].

The expression indeed, being a figurative one, may undoubtedly have such an application to Joshua, as to convey an intimation of the prosperous issue that should attend the work in which he was then engaged; just as the crown placed upon his head shadowed forth the glory and happiness to which God would raise up their then prostrate Church and Nation. But when announced in this emphatic form, as designating by a name, and not by a circumstance, the Person intended—not, He shall flourish as a Branch, but, His name is The BRANCH—no enlightened Israelite of that day would fail to recognise, in it, Him to whom his hopes so fondly turned, amidst all the desolations of Zion; as the Man of JEHOVAH'S right hand, the BRANCH that He had made strong for Himself[r].

3. Let us glance at the remaining point: He shall sit and rule upon His throne; and he shall be a Priest upon His throne. Here we lose sight altogether of the son of [m] John i. 14.

[n] Acts v. 31.

Josedech; and fix our eyes exclusively on the Great High Priest of our profession, CHRIST JESUS. For at what period of the Jewish history was there ever a priest of Aaron's line sitting and ruling upon a throne? The sceptre belonged to Judah, of which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priesthood[s]. Once only, but that at a period long before the settlement of the Levitical Priesthood, we read of a glorious and mysterious person, who was, at the same time, the King of Salem and the Priest of the Most High God[t]: but this very combination of dignity marks him out as belonging to an order totally distinct from that of Aaron's priesthood, and as a typical representative of One who was to arise after Aaron, (for He is foretold by David while Aaron's priesthood was established,) and yet was not to be called after the order of Aaron, and therefore was to supersede that order. The prophecy of the text coincides with that of the 110th Psalm; and when it is said of Joshua, that he shall be a priest upon his throne, it clearly teaches, that no other Joshua is really intended than He to whom the Lord sware, and will not repent, Thou art a Priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek[u]. And this, by the confession of all, both Jews and Christians, is the Messiah.

The Person spoken of being thus ascertained, without all contradiction, to be our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, we are prepared to enter with a livelier interest, in the second place, into the consideration of

II. THE WORK ASSIGNED HIM.—He shall grow up out of His place, and He shall build the Temple of the Lord.

When the Son of God became incarnate, He grew up as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground[v]. In all the circumstances of His birth, His infancy, His childhood, and His early manhood, we discover but scanty intimations of the great work which He came into the world to accomplish. Weakness and infirmity, poverty and contempt, the contradiction of sinners, the scoffs of His brethren, the blasphemous revilings of those who were the wisest and most exalted in the world's esteem,—who can discover in all this, consummated as it was by that awful and bitter death of the cross, the most suitable preparation and the surest forebodings of that work of mighty and mysterious grace, by which Salvation was to be brought to our world, man to be redeemed from the power of darkness, and God glorified, in reconciling the world unto Himself[w]? Who can discern, through the cloud of thick darkness that broods over Gethsemane and Calvary, the future glories of the Conqueror coming from Edom, glorious in His apparel, travelling in the greatness of His strength[x]?

But thus was the incarnate Saviour growing up out of His place, and laying broad and deep the foundations of a work of love, the praises of which are to resound through everlasting ages. It became Him, in all things, to be made like unto His brethren, that He might be a merciful and faithful High Priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people. He thus learned obedience by the things which he suffered, and was made perfect through sufferings[y], and furnished with every qualification for a perfect Saviour, with which in no other way He could have been furnished. And while Hell was raging against the Son of God's love, and Earth was lending her feeble aid to help forward the malignant purposes of that unnatural and impotent confederacy, He that sat in the heavens laughed at their infatuated devices, which were most effectually bringing about what His hand and His counsel had determined before to be done. His Blessed Son was only drinking of the brook in the way[z], that He might the more gloriously and triumphantly lift up His Head: He was growing up amidst difficulties and opposition and conflicts; and in the face of them all, and by means of them all, was carrying forward the counsels of His Will, and advancing the great end for which He had come into the world.

[w] 2 Cor. v. 19. [x] Is. lviii. 1. [y] Heb. ii. 10. 17. [z] Psalm cx. 7.

And what was the work which the Father had given Him to do? It was, to build the Temple of the Lord. A typical image of this was represented in the work in which Joshua was at this time engaged; and a subordinate design of the whole transaction, to which the Text refers, was to encourage Joshua in his important work. But the Temple he built, being but a shadow of good things to come, was soon to be removed, as Solomon's had been before, and its glory to be done away: it would make way, in the fulness of time, for that true Tabernacle which the Lord pitched, and not man[a]. And this is the true and spiritual Church of God which is spread over all ages and all nations; which consists of all believers, all faithful men and sanctified persons, throughout the world, gathered out of the vast mass of mankind, and brought together into one mystical body; the members of which, for the most part, are unknown to each other by face during their earthly pilgrimage, but will all be united in the worship of the heavenly sanctuary through all eternity.

It is the glory of the Son of God to be the Builder of this Temple. Even HE shall build the Temple of the Lord. The materials of which it is composed are sinners, who are by nature dead in trespasses and sins, and in that state are far off from God, alienated from the life of God, having the understanding darkened[b], the mind blinded, and the heart hardened and corrupt. Whether the Gospel finds man in the polished society of a Christian Land, or debased in the revolting miseries of the New-Zealand Savage, or led captive by Satan in the thousand chains of Hindoo Superstition—whatever differences there be in the outward form and circumstances of the case, there is none whatever in those essential elements of character with which the Gospel has to deal: it finds him lost, guilty, and spiritually dead: it addresses its gracious invitation, its life-giving message, to his soul:—but he is dead, and cannot hear; he hears indeed, but understands not.

And can these dry bones live? And is God able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham? Yes, when the great Master Builder sends forth the mighty energy of His Spirit, the dead in sins are quickened into life; the stony heart is taken away; the scales are removed from the eyes, and the veil from the heart; and the Gospel is made the power of God unto salvation. Sinners thus converted are made living stones; and coming in faith to Christ, the living Foundation-stone, they are built up a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ[c].

And such sacrifices of holy and spiritual worship have been offered up, and are offered up to God continually, in every place where the Gospel has been preached in faithfulness and simplicity, and accompanied, as in such cases it always will be, with the demonstration of the Spirit and of power[d]. And herein is magnified the power of our Redeemer's grace, that He can soften and subdue the most stubborn hearts, and mould the most unpromising materials, and make them subserve His purpose in building the Temple of the Lord. The trophies of this Almighty power are displayed, not only in the Churches which for ages have been planted in our Christian Land, but in the work that is going on before our eyes, in our own Missions and those of other Societies, in much people added to the Lord from among idolaters of every class and caste, from every kind and degree of spiritual degradation. For the administration of this Missionary service is abundant, by many thanksgivings unto God[e]; and the same Hallelujahs are continually ascending from the remotest regions of the earth, in harmony with those of Heaven. For in the continual progress of this work of our Redeemer, all the scattered Churches throughout the world, and all the individuals who are made the subjects of His quickening grace, are brought together, and united in one Spiritual Building. All are by faith united to Christ, and therefore united to each other in Him. However separated by seas and continents, however diverse from each other in language and manners, in habits of living and modes of thinking, and possessing, in their outward relations, no common bond of sympathy or union, they are all one in Christ Jesus: they are one body, of which Christ is the Head; they are builded together in Him, for a habitation of God, through the Spirit[f]: they are all sanctified by that One Spirit; they have communion together in the unconscious mingling of their prayers at the same Mercy-seat: they have one Lord, one faith, one baptism[g]: they are heirs of the same eternal inheritance beyond the grave; and in their passage through the wilderness they have their souls refreshed with living streams from the same Spiritual Rock, which, as it followed the ancient Israel in all their wanderings, so now, and in every age, is present in every part of that great wilderness, wherever there is a Church united in the communion of the Body of Christ, or an individual to call on the name of the Lord Jesus in faith and love.

And it is most delightful, to look abroad upon our world, groaning as it is under the desolating ravages of sin, and travailing in pain together with the fierce contests of the selfish passions of men; and to contemplate it in a holier character, as the field in which the seed of life is sown, and the great Harvest of God's glory is ultimately to be reaped;—to see the Word of Almighty Grace extending its triumphs to the utmost ends of the earth, and gathering in the heirs of Salvation out of all nations and kindred and people and tongues[h];—so that, even now, there is scarcely a known language on the face of the earth, in which the praises of Jesus have not been sung, and the wonders of Redeeming Love proclaimed. The flow of the nations to the mountain of the Lord's House has already commenced: the North has given up her sons to God, and the South has not kept back; the farthest East has beheld the rising beams of the Sun of Righteousness, and the fettered slave of the West has exulted in the liberty wherewith Christ makes His people free. Thousands and tens of thousands under the whole heaven have been quickened from the death of sin by the power of the Spirit, and have turned to God from idols to serve the Living and True God[i]. And they are the drop before the shower—the first-fruits of a full and universal harvest, which the Lord of the Harvest has given to His beloved Son: and in His hands the pleasure of the Lord shall prosper[k], till every stone of the glorious Building shall be gathered into its place, and the Temple of the Lord shall rise in its ample and beautiful proportions over the face of the whole earth, and He shall bring forth the head-stone thereof with shoutings, Grace, grace unto it![l]

For the Foundation on which this Temple rests, is one against which the gates of Hell cannot prevail[m]. The provision which God has made in His Gospel for accomplishing this work of grace toward a lost world, and concentrating all the glory of it in His Son, is fully adequate to answer the end desired. The text gives an assurance of this, in the intimation, that the counsel of peace shall be between them both. PEACE is the end proposed, even peace between God and man—and, resulting from this, peace to the guilty conscience of the sinner. We have peace with God[n]. And God, as revealed to Believers in the Gospel, is the God of peace[o].

But who is the Wonderful Counsellor, that can devise such a scheme of grace? and what are those counsels of deep and mysterious wisdom, by which a guilty and revolted world can be brought into peace and reconciliation with Him whose name is HOLY? We find the answer in the typical circumstance here put upon record; of which, being a typical circumstance, we must search for such an interpretation, as is pointed out at the same time by the general bearing of the passage, and by its adaptation both to the type and the anti-type. And this at once excludes all reference to God and man, as the two parties concerned; or to the Father and the Son, or to Jews and Gentiles; and absolutely confines us down to one application, viz. to Joshua and Zerubbabel, who, in other passages also of this prophet, are, by implication, combined, even when one of them only is expressly mentioned;—as, in the fourth chapter, the vision recorded is declared to be the Word of the Lord unto Zerubbabel; and yet it represents two olive-trees, which are the TWO anointed ones that stand by the Lord of the whole earth[p].

We are thus directed, then, to Him, of whom both Zerubbabel and Joshua were types, but types each in a different relation; Christ the KING of His Church, as represented by the former; and Christ the PRIEST of His Church, as represented by the latter: and between them both, the office and work of Christ our King and Christ our Priest, the counsel of peace is established. For in no other way, than by that wonderful combination in the person of Immanuel, could man be brought into peace with God—in no other way, than by the Son of God undertaking an union of office and character apparently so incongruous, and yet so beautifully harmonizing. But when He presented Himself to His Father, as willing to undertake the one, saying, Lo, I come! it was promised that He should see of the travail of His soul, by being exalted to the glory of the other.

As the High Priest therefore of His people, He descends from His heavenly glory, becomes a man of sorrows, is despised and rejected of men, and pours out His soul unto death, bearing our sins in His own body on the tree[q]; and, having thus made the full atonement, He rises from the dead, and ascends on high to make intercession for us. We have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the Righteous; and He is the propitiation for our sins[r].

But though He was thus delivered for our offences, and raised again for our justification[s], the counsel of peace is not yet complete. God has opened the door of reconciliation; but man is unable to enter in, being restrained by the stubborn rebellion of a carnal mind, which is enmity against God[t]. But yet, fear not, O Daughter of Zion! behold, thy KING cometh unto thee! and, having been thus lifted up on the cross, He declares, I will draw all men unto me[u]. For being now by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost[v], He pours down His gracious influence into the hearts of His people, to shed abroad His love in them, and to make them willing in the day of His power; and so subdue them to Himself, as His subjects and disciples, that He may reign over them by His grace, and be glorified in their obedience of faith. When thus drawn to Him, they are brought within the bonds of the covenant of peace; they have communion with God in the rich manifestations of His pardoning love, and rejoice in hope of His glory.

In this way does our Redeemer build the Temple of the Lord, by the virtue going forth continually from His Kingly and Priestly Offices. Its foundation is laid in the work of His Priesthood, and in the infinitely precious sacrifice which takes away the sin of the world: His kingly power and glory crown the work, and erect a superstructure corresponding to so excellent a foundation. The preachers of His word are sent forth, with their high commission, to gather in the outcasts of a guilty world; and, by the mighty operation of His Holy Spirit, their word, which is sown in weakness, is raised in power[w].— Beautiful on the mountains are the feet of them that preach the Gospel of Peace![x] The wilderness and the solitary place are glad for them; and the desert rejoices and blossoms as the rose[y]. In the midst of this great wilderness of temptation and sin, the Spiritual Temple of the Lord of Hosts is rising before our eyes continually, and the songs of Salvation are heard to resound within its sacred precincts, as the prelude to that universal chorus of praise, with which the whole earth shall break forth into singing, when Christ shall sit on the Throne of His glory, and the heathen be given to Him for His inheritance.

For the Divine Builder shall not fail nor be discouraged, till He have set judgment in the earth; and the Isles shall wait for His law[z]. Thus will He finish the work which His Father has given Him to do:—and to this work there is promised, in the last place,

III. AN APPROPRIATE REWARD. He shall build the Temple of the Lord; and He shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon His Throne.

Two particulars are here mentioned, possessing each a deep interest in connexion with our Missionary Work; the one holding forth our encouragement; the other, our duty. He whom we serve in this work is invested with the government, and is to bear the glory.

1. Christ is invested with the government. He shall sit and rule upon His Throne. The government shall be upon His shoulders; and He must reign, till He hath put all enemies under His feet[a]. When He had laid the foundations of His Church by the shedding of His blood, the basis on which He rested the commission which He gave to His Apostles for carrying on the building, was the assumption of Universal Dominion:—All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth: go ye, therefore, and teach all nations[b]. He was Himself crucified for witnessing the good confession, that He was a King; and then He sent forth the heralds of His salvation, to proclaim Him as the Great King over all the earth, and to call upon all people, nations, and languages, to bow down before Him, receive His yoke, and accept His salvation.

This Dominion of Christ has a twofold bearing, in reference to the Church and the world. He rules His people as willing subjects. His service to them is perfect freedom: their highest happiness consists in not being their own, but bought with an infinite price, that they may glorify Him in their body and their spirit, which are His[c]; and their most fervent ambition is, to have every thought of their hearts brought into captivity to the obedience of [z] Is. xlii. 4. [a] 1 Cor. xv. 25. [b] Matt. xxviii. 18, 19. [c] 1 Cor. vi. 20.

Christ[d]. The frame of mind which they most earnestly cultivate, is that expressed in the inquiry of the trembling Apostle—Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?[e]

And more extensively throughout the world, the submission to His will, though less conscious and less willing, is not less absolute. In all the complicated machinery of conflicting events, which are moving forward in their several directions with restless rapidity, there is not one, either the smallest or the greatest of them all, which is not subject to His sovereign controul. Even the winds and the sea obeyed Him, when He was upon earth: and that troubled and tempestuous sea of the world's tumultuous passions, and busy schemings, and eventful changes, subsides at once into a great calm, if He but utter the word, Peace! be still; or is permitted to lash itself into fury again, if it may so better help forward the accomplishment of His purposes. He ruleth in the kingdoms of men. He stilleth the raging of the sea, and the noise of his waves, and the madness of the people[f]. The counsels of the wise, and the efforts of the mighty, are not only powerless against Him, but are bent into implicit subjection to work His Will; and the convulsions of Nations, and the rise and fall of Empires, are ordained and overruled for the setting up of His Kingdom.

And in the possession of all this sovereignty, He is Head over all things, especially and emphatically, to the Church: and in the exercise of this universal dominion, He addresses that Church with an inexpressible combination of tenderness and majesty:—I have put my words in thy mouth, and have covered thee in the shadow of my hand, that I may plant the heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and say unto Zion, Thou art my people[g].

This is the never-failing resource upon which His Church must cast herself, in all her difficulties; and in no difficulties more eminently, than those which arise before her in the prosecution of her Missionary Work. For as this, above all others, is a work of faith, so, above all others, it shuts us up to a simple and immediate dependence on the arm of the Lord. When, then, obstacles present themselves before us which baffle human wisdom; when faith is tried, and hope damped, by a want of visible success; when disappointment withers our undertakings, or worldly policy thwarts them; when our Missionaries are weakened by sickness, or cut off by death; when they turn aside from the simplicity of their walk with God, or their converts turn back to idolatry and sin; it is still our privilege and comfort to know, that Christ sits and rules upon His Throne, and that at His bidding the great mountains of difficulty shall become a plain before Zerubbabel; every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill made low; and the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together[h]. And so, whether it be in prosperous or in troublous times, He shall build the Temple of the Lord. Moreover,

2. He shall bear the glory. The glory of Joshua's Temple belonged not to himself: like Moses, he was faithful in all his house as a servant; but Christ as a Son, over His own house[i]: and the glory of the Spiritual Temple which He builds, is all His own.

Even in this present world, the Church, which is planted in the midst of it, marred as it is with infirmity and corruption, and branded, like its Saviour, with contempt, is a glorious monument of praise to that Saviour's name. Every stone that is laid upon a stone in the Temple of the Lord becomes a living witness to the truth and grace and power of the crucified Redeemer: the universal Church is the light of the world, shining before men in the beauty of holiness, and showing forth the praises of Him who hath redeemed it with His blood. And just as when He lived upon earth, and went about doing good, those who were made the happy subjects of His beneficent miracles, delighted to employ their newly-recovered faculties in tributes of affectionate homage to their Deliverer, and followed Jesus, glorifying God; even so it is now, in the spiritual workings of His power. All who experience His grace are unto Him for a people, and for a name, and for a praise, and for a glory: the Temple He is thus building in the world resounds with His praises; for in every part of it, under all varieties of climate, and in all the different grades of society, the heart is still the same—has the same bitterness of sin to be delivered from, and finds the same relief at the cross of Jesus. From the ends of the earth have we heard songs, even glory to the Righteous One[k]; and the Hallelujahs of the Christian Church, ascribing Salvation to our God which sitteth upon the Throne, and unto the Lamb[l], have been echoed back from the banks of the Ganges and the coasts of Africa, from lips heretofore polluted with the frantic cries of idol-worship, and hearts bound in the iron chains of brutalizing superstition.

And when this glorious Temple shall be completed, and the head-stone be brought forth with shoutings, and the great multitude which no man can number be gathered before the Throne, what an exceeding weight of glory will then rest on the Universal Redeemer! All the crowns of Heaven will be cast down before Him: every eye shall see Him, and gaze upon Him with wonder and ineffable delight; every redeemed sinner, in the enjoyment of a full Salvation, will give all the glory of it to His Saviour; and ten thousand times ten thousand and thousands of thousands of Angels will join their songs with ours, saying, with a loud voice, Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing![m] Then will the once-suffering but now glorified Redeemer see of the travail of His soul, and be satisfied[n];—all His enemies made His footstool, and all His people brought to glory, to be with Him where He is, to dwell in His presence and sing His praises for ever—this is the joy that was set before Him, for which He endured the cross, despising the shame[o]. And He shall reign for ever and ever[p].

[k] Is. xxiv. 16. [l] Rev. vii. 10. [m] Ibid. v. 12.
[n] Is. liii. 11. [o] Heb. xii. 2. [p] Rev. xi. 15.

And now, Beloved Brethren, we have only to gather up, in a few concluding sentences, some of the fragments of the subject before us; for the purpose of direct practical application to ourselves, as concerned in the work of Missions.

1. In the first place—LET US BEWARE OF BUILDING WITHOUT CHRIST. For HE shall build the Temple of the Lord; even HE shall build the Temple of the Lord. It is His prerogative to build, as He alone is to bear the glory: and as He Himself has solemnly warned us, He that gathereth not with me, scattereth[q]; so the greatest and wisest of earth's master-builders has set us the example of disclaiming all participation in the power as well as the glory;—Not I, but the grace of God which was with me[r].

Cordially do I rejoice, my Brethren, to know and believe, that the proceedings of this Society—alloyed as they still doubtless are with a mixture of human infirmity—are yet, in the main, conducted in a simple dependence on the promise of Christ for our encouragement, and on the Spirit of Christ for our guidance. Our gracious Master has sometimes seen fit to wither the arm in which we were tempted to trust, and to disappoint the hopes which gathered, perhaps, some of their confidence from the imagined sufficiency or adaptation of human instruments. Let all combine to lead us to a greater simplicity of faith. Let us be jealous over ourselves, with godly jealousy. Let our dependence be more child-like, and our obedience more unequivocal and self-denying. Let all be begun, continued, and ended, in Him, who is the Alpha and Omega, the First and the Last. Let us seek to be, even more than we have yet been, a Society whose very element is Prayer; and so let all the results of our undertakings, whether prosperous or adverse, lead us to the Saviour, in praise for blessings received, or confiding acquiescence under afflictive dispensations.

2. In the next place—GIVE ALL THE GLORY TO CHRIST.

[q] Luke xi. 23. [r] 1 Cor. xv. 10.

He shall bear the glory. And while all the events of a restless and agitated world—moving forward, as they too generally do, in utter forgetfulness of Him—must yet work together in entire subordination to His glory, and even the wrath of man must praise Him[s]; the work of Missions has this high and holy character stamped upon it, that it aims at this hallowed end, in the most direct way, and on the largest scale. And this consideration it is which, above all others, endears the Missionary Cause to our hearts, that it is so identified with the work of our Saviour, and so bound up with His glory. It is a direct assault made upon the kingdom of Satan, by the act of proclaiming another King, even Jesus, for whom it claims the Universal Empire. The Temple you are now building in New Zealand, or in any other of the darkest spots of Satan's dominions, is consecrated to His glory, and becoming vocal with His praises. Let us put the crown upon His head, who alone is worthy to wear it. The silver and the gold, which from the riches of the Church's liberality are poured into this treasury of the Lord, would be desecrated and perverted from its legitimate purpose, if employed to make crowns for any other head than that of Jesus. The most honoured of those who have laboured in the work of this building, and in whom pre-eminently we glorify God for the grace bestowed upon them—from the venerable Scott, to those whose names are more recently embalmed in our affectionate remembrance, Gambier and Wilberforce—would all unite, with one mind and one mouth, to glorify God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ[t]; putting away the honour from the earthen vessel, and referring to the grace of their beloved Master all that they had been enabled to do for Him.

Still let us go forward, dear and honoured Brethren, in the same spirit; and let it be the joy and rejoicing of our hearts that we are counted worthy, in any feeble measure, to work the work of the Lord Jesus, and that His Grace has taught us to set our affection to the House of our God[u].

[s] Psalm lxxvi. 10. [t] Rom. xv. 6. [u] 1 Chron. xxix. 3.

—May He, for whom it is built, take pleasure in it, and be glorified!

3. Lastly, then, upon these principles—drawing all our strength from Christ, and giving all the glory to Christ—let us CONTRIBUTE, with a self-denying liberality, of our labour and our substance for the work of building the Temple of the Lord. This is the concluding point; but I forbear to urge it by any formal argument or exhortation. The occasion is too solemn and sacred. The Cause itself is too elevated and holy, to need to be commended to your hearts by any enticing words of man's wisdom. Our labours in this cause, our prayers and our gifts, are all for the glory of Christ. And He shall live, and to Him shall be given of the gold of Sheba: prayer, also, shall be made for Him continually; and daily shall He be praised[v]. To Him be all the glory of what He has already done in us and by us! May our hearts be filled with His love; and constrained by that love to bring forth more abundant fruits of righteousness, to the glory and praise of God!

THE COMMITTEE.

DELIVERED, IN SUBSTANCE,

TO THE ANNUAL MEETING,

HELD MAY 6, 1834,

AT EXETER HALL, STRAND.

REPORT,

&c. &c.

DEATH OF VALUABLE FRIENDS.

In presenting to the Members and Friends of the Church Missionary Society the Thirty-Fourth Annual Report of its Proceedings, it devolves upon the Committee to record the death, during the past year, of two of the Vice Patrons and two of the Vice Presidents of the Society; namely, the Lord Viscount Galway, Lord Teignmouth, William Wilberforce, Esq., and William Taylor Money, Esq. The first of the above-mentioned Noblemen had evinced, only the evening before his death, his deep interest in the Cause of Missions; alluding, in his family circle, to the glory which will be bestowed on those who turn many to righteousness. Two others of the above-named friends will be long remembered for their connexion respectively with India, and, most of all, with the great Cause of the Bible. Of the name of WILBERFORCE the Committee feel that it is almost impossible for them to speak, since all hearts feel toward his memory more than words can utter. When the ear heard him, then it blessed him; and when the eye saw him, it gave witness to him; because he delivered the poor that cried, and the fatherless, and him that had none to help him.

Another Individual, a zealous friend of this Society, a friend also of Wilberforce, has been called, during the past year, to close a long life of Christian usefulness. The Committee need do little else than name Mrs. Hannah More. The Heathen are largely her debtors, both for her many gifts and prayers on their behalf while living, and, when dying, for her munificent bequests to various Institutions; among which, the Church Missionary Society has received a Legacy of 1000*l.*

PATRONAGE.

Sir George Grey, Bart. M.P., long an active member of the Committee, has accepted the office of Vice-President of the Society.

STATE OF THE FUNDS.

In reporting this part of their Proceedings, the Committee, with unfeigned gratitude, acknowledge the favour of God, manifested in the large pecuniary supplies vouchsafed to the Society during the last year. The total amount of the Society's Income, under all heads, was 52,922*l.* 1*s.* 9*d.* This sum exceeds the income of the preceding year by 3572*l.* 0*s.* 4*d.* The Receipts, however, under the head of Legacies, much exceeded the average amount, being no less than 3730*l.* 4*s.* 8*d.* The Committee have the satisfaction to state, that Contributions, through Home Associations, whence the resources of the Society are principally drawn, are in a flourishing state, amounting to 40,862*l.* 0*s.* 6*d.*; though, from the incidental circumstance of the usual remittances from the Hibernian Auxiliary not having been paid till after the 31st of March, the actual amount, under this head, falls a trifle below that of last year.

On this brief review of the financial situation of the Society, the Committee desire, with deep humility, to render to God all the glory of His signal providential bounty. At the same time, they entreat the prayers of the Members at large, that the appropriation of this large supply may, through His blessing, be rendered subservient to the great spiritual end of the "furtherance of the Gospel" among the Heathen.

The expenditure of the year amounted to 48,622*l.* 12*s.* 1*d.*

Under the favourable financial circumstances of the year, the Committee considered it to be their duty to sanction a limited enlargement of the Society's operations in the Mediterranean, North India, South India, Ceylon, and New-Zealand Missions. These operations might be much further extended, under the most encouraging prospects, should the pecuniary resources of the Society be proportionately augmented. The increased expenditure above referred to was limited in its extent; as the reduction of the establishment of a Mission, if rendered necessary by a decrease of income, is unavoidably attended with very serious distress and inconvenience.

At the close of the year, a considerable surplus, including the balance of 4933*l.* 16*s.* at the Bankers on the 1st of April 1833, remained at the disposal of the Committee. They therefore availed themselves of the opportunity to make an extraordinary grant of 2000*l.* to the Disabled-Missionary Fund, which is still very inadequate to meet a head of charge of a peculiarly affecting nature in Missionary operations. They also vested the sum of 4000*l.* in Exchequer Bills, with an especial view promptly to enlarge the operations of the Society in the West Indies, when due facilities shall be afforded them for doing so with advantage.

ASSOCIATION PROCEEDINGS.

During the last year, Thirty-seven new Associations and Branches have been formed. Under this head, the Committee repeat their grateful acknowledgments of the valuable services of the Clerical and Lay Friends who have rendered their gratuitous assistance at the Association Anniversaries.

The Rev. Dr. Doran, having felt himself constrained to relinquish his intention of returning to India as one of the Society's Missionaries, for reasons, the force of which was admitted by the Committee, his services have been engaged for the current year as Visiting Secretary.

MISSIONARIES AND STUDENTS.

DECEASE OR RETURN OF MISSIONARIES.

It has pleased God to remove by death, in the course of the past year, the following Individuals:—The Rev. G. T. Bärenbruck, who died at Stettin, in Prussia, on the 5th of May 1833, having left India two years previously on account of ill health; Mrs. Deerr, wife of the Rev. W. J. Deerr, of Calcutta, whose death took place in London, on the 18th of September, a little less than a month after her arrival, with Mr. Deerr, from India; and Mrs. Eteson, wife of the Rev. R. Eteson, of Chunar, who died in the month of October last, after a lingering illness.

Those of our Missionaries who have returned from Sierra Leone, are, the Rev. W. K. Betts, who arrived, in a very reduced state of health, on the 1st of May; the Rev. G. W. E. Metzger, with Mrs. Metzger and his two children, who reached town on the 11th of June; and the Rev. John Raban, who brought home with him Miss A. E. Nyländer, and arrived on the 19th of September. Mr. Edward Gillespie also left Sierra Leone, under a medical certificate, on the 7th of September; but has since recently returned to the same field of labour.

The Rev. Samuel Gobat reached London, from Alexandria, on the 14th of July: he left England in August, to spend some time among his friends in France and Switzerland, previously to his return to Abyssinia.

The Rev. W. J. Deerr, in consequence of the debilitated state of his health, left Calcutta on the 20th of December 1832, on board the "James Sibbald." The vessel having been wrecked only a week after sailing, the passengers were taken up by a native brig, and brought safely to Masulipatam. Mr. Deerr proceeded thence to Madras; where he embarked on the 25th of March, and arrived in England on the 23d of August. After the lamented death of Mrs. Deerr, Mr. Deerr left this country, on a visit to his friends on the Continent, for the purpose of recruiting his health, which is much improved.

The Rev. William Morse was obliged to leave Calcutta, from ill health; and arrived in London on the 5th of May.

The health of Henry Snashall, who went out to Madras with the Rev. J. Tucker, having failed soon after his arrival there, he was obliged to return to this country, and reached London on the 4th of May.

Mr. Ebenezer Collins, having suffered considerably from the effects of a West-India climate, arrived from Jamaica on the 24th of September: he has subsequently departed, with Mr. Edward Gillespie, to the Society's Mission at Sierra Leone.

The Rev. Henry Baker, who arrived from India on the 9th of July, and Mr. John Armstrong, who has returned from Demerara to prepare for Holy Orders, are still in England.

DEPARTURES AND ARRIVALS OF MISSIONARIES.

The Labourers to be reported, since last year, as having departed, and some of them arrived, at their respective Stations, are as follows:—

West-Africa Mission — The Rev. C. L. F. Haensel sailed for Sierra Leone on the 19th of July 1833, and arrived in that colony on the 26th of August. Mr. Benjamin Yate Ashwell embarked at Gravesend for Sierra Leone on the 25th of November; but was detained in the Channel by contrary winds till the beginning of February, when he sailed. Messrs. Ebenezer Collins and Edward Gillespie left England for the same colony, on the 10th of March last.

Mediterranean Mission—The Rev. F. Hildner, after a stay of two months in England, left London on the 14th of October, for Syra; which place, after touching at Corfu, he reached on the 9th of January. A Letter, dated the 30th of October 1833, mentions the safe return of the Rev. C. W. Isenberg at Caïro. The Rev. John Francis Müller left London on the 15th of January last, to proceed, by way of the Continent, to Smyrna.

South-India Mission—The Rev. Joseph Peet and Mr. Peter Batchelor landed at Madras on the 20th of May, and the Rev. George Pettitt on the 7th of June, 1833. The Rev. John Tucker and Henry Snashall arrived on the 25th of August: the Rev. Messrs. William John Woodcock and John Michael Lechler sailed for the same Station on the 11th of February last.

Ceylon Mission—The Rev. Joseph Bailey, who had returned home, on a visit, on the 14th of October, left England, with Mrs. Bailey, on the 13th of March, on his return to Ceylon.

Australasia Mission—Miss Coldham arrived at New Zealand in August 1832. Philip Hansen King, son of Mr. King in New Zealand, Mr. Henry Pilley, a carpenter, and Mr. John Edmonds, a stone-mason, with his wife and four children, sailed for New Zealand on the 8th of July 1833: Mr. J. A. Wilson arrived at the same place on the 11th of April, and Mr. John Morgan on the 21st of May. Mr.

James Stack, with Mrs. Stack, to whom he has recently been married, sailed on the 27th of November.

West-Indies' Mission — The Rev. W. K. Betts and Mrs. Betts sailed for Jamaica on the 16th of April last.

ORDINATION OF MISSIONARIES.

Five of the Society's Students have been admitted, by the Bishop of London, to Deacon's Orders, and Three to Priest's Orders, during the course of the last year. Five were also admitted to Priest's Orders in January 1833, by the Bishop of Calcutta; and one has since been admitted by him to Deacon's Orders.

INSTITUTION AT ISLINGTON.

Concerning the Society's Institution at Islington, the Committee are enabled to express their satisfaction at its spiritual, literary, and general state. Among the Students, there is such diligence and conformity to good order, and, above all, there is such a habit of religious intercourse among themselves, that the Committee entertain the best hopes that the blessing of God's Holy Spirit is resting on this department of the Society's labours.

In the Report made by the Principal, he states it to be his "sincere persuasion, that the Church Missionary Institution, in all points, except that of numbers, was never in a more flourishing condition; and that it progressively grows in those qualities which ought to be peculiarly impressed upon a Missionary Seminary."

There were, in the Institution, at the last Anniversary, Thirteen Students. Eleven Candidates have been received during the year. Four of the Students have departed to their respective scenes of labour: one has left on account of ill health; two have withdrawn; and there now remain Seventeen.

The number of Missionaries sent forth last year was, Three Ordained Missionaries, and Five Catechists and Artisans: two of these being married, the individuals sent forth amount to ten, besides the children of some of them, four in number.

The total number engaged by the Society, as Ordained Missionaries, or as Teachers, (exclusive of Native Teachers, and of the Wives of the married Labourers,) amounts to 107.

MISSIONS.

WEST-AFRICA MISSION.

THE depressed state of this, the most ancient of the Society's Missions, has been a matter of the deepest regret to the Committee; nor has it been hitherto in their power to meet the exigencies of the case. The number of the Society's Missionaries and Catechists labouring in the colony is at present Seven; besides a considerable number of Native Assistants. To their power, it may truly be said, yea, and beyond their power, they are endeavouring to uphold and to carry forward the work of the Gospel in that benighted region.

The Rev. J. G. Wilhelm, who is stationed in Free Town, mentions, that neither the Services of Sundays and Week-days, nor the Sunday Schools, had suffered any interruption; health having, through God's mercy, been enjoyed by himself, and by Mr. Warburton, who had for some time assisted him.

INSTITUTION AT FOURAH BAY.

The Institution at Fourah Bay has been under the charge, during his stay in the colony, of the Rev. J. Raban, assisted by Mr. Warburton. In their Report, it is stated concerning the Scholars—

We have been able to attend to Geography and Grammar, with them, only in a very limited degree. Could more time be given to these studies, we have no doubt that it might be profitably spent; as Geography would enlarge their minds, and give them clearer ideas concerning many of the narrations of Scripture; and Grammar would be the surest guard against that very incorrect manner of speaking which they are so apt to learn from their uninstructed countrymen.

Of the Colonial Boys' School it is stated, that there have been admitted 58 Scholars. There are now remaining on the School Books 429 Scholars. Of this number, 237 read the Old and New Testaments, and other books, pretty well; 140 read in, and spell, monosyllables; and 50 are learning the Alphabet. The average number of those who have attended during the Quarter is 380. Few of them need any stimulus in their attention to the art of singing: almost all manifest a fondness for this. Ciphering, also, is a favourite pursuit with the generality of them.

GIBRALTAR-CHAPEL SUNDAY SCHOOL — The number on the School List at the beginning of the Quarter was 93. Since then, 30 have been admitted, 21 have left, and 1 has been dismissed for irreverent and disobedient conduct in his class while reading the Holy Scriptures; making

RIVER DISTRICT.

The Rev. J. F. Schön, writing from his Station of Kissey, has the following remarks concerning the work of the Ministry, and the varying measure of success attending it. He states:—

Among the 28 Candidates for Baptism, who are, at present, under special instruction for that solemn Ordinance, are several who grow in grace as they grow in knowledge. But others, although they have been under instruction for more than four years, have been sent back to another class, because they were incapable of answering the easiest question that was put to them. I am, indeed, at a loss how to deal with them, as they can hardly bear the idea of being sent back; and whenever I tell them that there is little hope of their being, as yet, admitted by Baptism into the Church of Christ, they seem to be grieved at it. Were Christianity a dead science, there might be an excuse for it; but being a reviving principle, when exercising its influence in man's heart, always effectual in producing a change, and in affording some practical knowledge, the absence of such symptoms makes me conclude that no Work of Grace has taken place in their hearts.

MOUNTAIN DISTRICT.

Although the faith and patience of the Missionaries are greatly tried, yet proofs of the power of Divine Grace are sometimes unexpectedly brought before them. The Rev. G. A. Kissling, who is stationed in this District, relates—

Several of the Candidates have received the seed of Divine Truth, and are improving: others seem to be sluggish of understanding, and negligent. One of the Candidates for Baptism was lately called to her endless reward: her happy death cheered my spirit, which was just then exceedingly cast down. Suddenly she became dangerously ill: I was sent for in the night, and found her on her dying-bed. After having expressed a desire to be with Jesus, acknowledging her sins, but trusting in His all-atoning blood, she wished me to baptize her. I could not see what should prevent me from complying with her request. She was baptized: after which she said, "I long to see the Lord!" A few hours after, she expired; and entered, I trust, into everlasting rest.

Mr. Kissling meets the Candidates for Baptism, part on Monday, and the rest on Tuesday Mornings, to read and explain the Parables to them, which he finds to be an exercise well suited to their capacities.

TIMMANI COUNTRY.

The Rev. Charles L. F. Haensel having visited this Country last year, returned to Western Africa, July 19th, last, with the intention of commencing a Mission of Research in the Timmani Country, a region lying to the Interior, due east of Sierra Leone. He has entered upon his Mission; and some brief reports have been received of his endeavours to make himself acquainted with the more influential Chiefs. It is a prime object to fix, if practicable, the Language; and thence to proceed to the work of Scriptural Translation. In process of time, as it shall please God to give success to the Society's plans, his communications may open the way for effecting an object which the Committee have ever had at heart; namely, the carrying of the tidings of the blessed Gospel more directly into the interior of the African Continent. *

MEDITERRANEAN MISSION.

In this deeply interesting portion of the world, the theatre of all Scripture History, and the scene of all the great transactions of the Church of God, the Committee have to report, that God has mercifully granted an increase both of extent and of stability to the Society's plans.

MALTA.

In this Island, the Society's Printing Establishment is continued, under the superintendence of the Rev. C. F. Schlienz; assisted, as heretofore, in his editorial labours, by Mr. Brenner; and in the Printing Department, by Mr. Weiss. The number of works, in Italian, Greek, Arabic, and Maltese, printed during the last year has been 76,150; an increase upon the year preceding of more than 30,000. The issues in the year 1832 were 35,823; in 1823, they were 38,173: the increase of issues, therefore, is 2350. The chief demands, during this year, appear to have been for Arabic Publications; the issue of which has increased in the ratio of five to two.

While the circulation of these various religious works, in Italian, Greek, Arabic, and Maltese, has materially aided all our Missionaries around the Mediterranean, it has drawn forth, also, a correspondence of an encouraging nature from the Northern Coast of Africa, especially from Tunis and Algiers. The Committee have long had their view attentively directed toward those regions, in the hope that Providence may furnish both the pecuniary means and the suitable opportunity for extending their labours in that direction. *

GREECE.

During the past year, the Rev. Frederick Hildner has visited this Country; by which the Committee have had the opportunity of entering minutely into the details of the Mission in Greece, and they have been induced somewhat to enlarge their plans for education in that Country.

While he was in England, Mr. Hildner drew up detailed accounts of the proceedings of the Greek Mission, from its commencement up to the present time. He relates the fiery trial of tribulation through which his School had to pass; and out of which it came purified and established, and more than ever in favour with the Greeks, for whose benefit it was designed. He particularizes four flourishing Schools now continuing in their former order and condition. These Establishments partly belong to the Church Missionary Society, and are partly under Greek Trustees. The total number of children attending the Syra Schools was between three and four hundred: besides these, the number attending the Infant School is stated at 150.

Of the assiduity with which the various Teachers under his superintendence performed their charge, he bears this pleasing testimony:—

Three Tutors and five Mistresses were charged with various departments of instruction; and it was extremely encouraging, that, with few exceptions, all of them took delight in promoting the moral education of the children; and several taught them, in a truly evangelical manner, the Word of God, with earnestness and love, both on the week-days and Lord's-day.

On the whole, reflecting upon the gradual increase and success of his Schools, and the possibility of conducting them altogether upon Christian principles, Mr. Hildner felt himself encouraged to declare, "that they enjoy the rich blessing of God."

In addition to his multiplied labours in the department of

* The Number, Language, and Subject of the different Publications issued from the Malta Press, are stated in the Church Missionary Record for 1834, pp. 39—41.

Christian Education, Mr. Hildner states, as follows, the progress of Translations of Works into Modern Greek:—

One hour in the evening has been devoted to this branch; and besides some extracts from books, lessons, &c., for immediate use in the Schools, the following larger Works have been translated:—

'A Treatise on the improvement of Day Schools."

"Help to the Gospels:" very well adapted for the use of Masters in Schools.

"A Catechism on the Parables of Christ."

"Mrs. Howland's Infant System"—the best of the kind, to my knowledge. It is an American Work, and is nearly completed.

These Translations want only a last revision, and are ready for printing.

The circulation of the Holy Scriptures, and of the Religious Publications printed, for the most part, at Malta, has also formed the constant engagement of Mr. Hildner. On this important head he sums up his Report in the following words:—

Thus I have provided with the Word of God, besides Syra, Schools in Crete, Cyprus, Scio, Haivali, Napoli, and some other places of the Morea, Zea, Nio, Zinos, and others, and others of the Cyclades. The amount of books disposed of, in the course of the year, comprises 368 entire copies of the Testament or Bible, and 3296 copies of parts of Scripture, School-books, or Tracts, from the Presses in Malta, and from the Tract Society in England. About the third part of them were sold, at reduced prices, for 968 Turkish piastres. In this amount are not included the Scriptural and Arithmetical Tables, and the books in Ancient Greek, from the Presses of the Episcopalian Missionary Society of Athens, with which several Schools are also supplied. By far the greatest part of these books are distributed and used in the Schools. This dissemination of the Word of God, I trust, according to Divine promise, will not only continue, but will increase, and effectually co-operate to prepare a harvest, for future time, and for eternity.*

ASIA MINOR.

The thoughts of men are at present turned with intense anxiety toward Turkey. True Christians, however, may cherish a well-grounded hope, that God will bring glory to His Church in the midst of the troubles which afflict that Country. The Committee have deeply felt the considerations which recommend the undertaking of Missionary Labours among the Turks themselves. The Rev. Andrew Jetter and Mrs. Jetter, being established at Smyrna, have commenced the formation of a Turkish School both for Boys and for Girls. Previously to this, Mrs. Jetter had, during the last summer, six Turkish Girls under her instruction; the first instance of such a thing being permitted. They met in the beginning with much encouragement, and confidently expected an opening for Christian labours among the Turks in Smyrna. Suddenly, however, the Turkish Masters, and a Schoolmistress employed by the Missionaries, were apprehended, by order of the Government. The Masters were put in prison, and their feet made fast in the stocks; and for some days there was no mitigation of their punishment: at length, however, they were liberated; and subsequently two Turkish Schools have been opened. Mr. Jetter, visiting them, states: "I found in them more children than ever before; in one, thirty-five; and in the other, thirty." Of the Turkish Master, he says—

I sincerely hope that God will, in mercy, enlighten him; for he is a most amiable man, and shows much attachment to us. We want your intercessions; having many obstacles, and [illegible] enemies to encounter. Let the Collect for Jews, Turks, In[illegible]d "Heretics" be used, not once a year, but every day.

The Committee are happy to state, that the British and Foreign Bible Society have, upon representations made to them, by our Missionaries, of the importance of their work, undertaken the separate printing of the Turkish Psalter. With a view also of following up the plans thus opening before them, the Committee have sent forth a Missionary to Smyrna, the Rev. J. F. Müller, with a view more especially to the Turkish Department.

Mr. Jetter has also been constantly engaged in superintending Greek Education. In his later communications, he describes the interesting scene of the examination of his Greek Schools. On this occasion, he was unexpectedly visited by the late Greek Bishop of Smyrna, who had formerly been unfriendly; but who, on leaving the School, said to Mr. Jetter: "I shall now speak differently about your Schools from what I did before; for I see that you really do good to our Nation." A Greek Lady, also, of some rank, remarked at the close: "These children have done wonderfully well! they have answered questions which I never heard before."

Mr. Jetter thus reports the Distribution of Religious Tracts and School Books:—

The Religious-Tract Society in London enabled me to furnish several friends with Tracts for distribution. In some instances, I was able to visit English vessels, and supply them with Tracts: but to do this properly, a Seamen's Chaplain is required, or a person appointed for this work; for more time is needed than a Missionary can spare. In all, I disposed of about 4000 Tracts—English, French, Italian, German, Spanish, and Greek. The Greek School at Sedicui was supplied with a set of Spelling and Reading Lessons. A School at Adrianople received 80 books of different sizes. Another at Agiakû, eight hours from Magnesia, received 90; and the one at Demirtes received 86 —in all 256, the whole of which were from the Society's Press at Malta.

In reference to the Religious Exercises among the Missionaries themselves, and their immediate circle of Christian friends, Mr. Jetter remarks—

As I have had frequent opportunities to observe, we have likewise Religious Meetings, in English, twice a week: latterly we have had one on the Lord's-day evening, in a party intended both for children and adults. This last-mentioned Meeting is particularly intended for the benefit of the young. The friend at whose house it takes place has a large family, and extensive connexions, some of whom will be led, we hope, to send their children to our little assembly. While other drawing-rooms are opened for card-parties and dancing, on this sacred evening, theirs has been furnished, through the Winter, with a special view for this object. God grant that many more such doors may be opened!

EGYPT.

The three Missionaries, the Rev. Messrs. Krusé, Müller, and Lieder, who all of them, as stated in former Reports, had visited Europe, have now, for a considerable time, re-established themselves in Egypt, principally in Caïro. A joint Letter has been addressed by these Missionaries to the Committee, dated Caïro, August 1, 1833, reporting the arrangements entered into, for their various labours.

In reference to Public Worship, it is stated—

Divine Service will be performed by Messrs. Krusé and Müller, alternately, in Arabic and English, every Sunday. The Arabic Service begins at eight o'clock, and the English at ten o'clock, every Sunday Morning. Owing to this arrangement, the Missionary, whose turn it is to preach in Arabic, will be able to attend, on the same day, the English Service performed by the other, and vice versâ. He whose turn it is to preach in English takes all the Services that occur in the week, among the English residents here; and has to visit them in their respective habitations. He who preaches in Arabic has to visit, during the week, the Natives in their own dwellings—those, at least, with whom we are connected or acquainted, and wherever he can find access. But the houses of both the Brethren are open, at all times, to all classes of people who wish to be instructed in the Way of Salvation.

Considerable delay arose in obtaining suitable premises for carrying the School-plans into effect: at length, Mr. Krusé writes, under date of November 20, 1833—

I am glad to say, that all things are now ready for the Boarding School; so that to-morrow the children will enter our house. I shall have no rest till they are under our roof; but it is difficult to decide who are most anxious for this establishment, the Boys or myself. Indeed, their eagerness to come in gives me much pleasure; and it has been very painful to me that I could not get ready to receive them sooner. It was a trial to them and to me; but the greater is the joy, now the hour is come when they can enter; and I firmly believe that each Boy will bring his peculiar blessing with him into the house.

* Particular accounts of the Mission in Asia Minor may be read in the Church Missionary Record for 1833, pp. 104—108.

There are, at present, only ten Boys, selected from the Day School, with whom to begin the Boarding School; and they are generally very promising. A Boy was sent to me, a fortnight ago, who seems to be more promising than all the rest: since which, he has attended School, and lived in my house, and I am more delighted with him every day.

The Day School, which has long existed, is under the special care of Mr. Müller; who, besides teaching what is suited to younger boys, gives them also daily Religious Instruction. From this School, the most promising Boys are selected, to be received into the Boarding School or Seminary under Mr. Krusé's care. The great importance of combining, in such an institution, Religious with Literary pursuits, is obvious. This design is thus stated by the Missionaries:—

This School is regarded as a Seminary for training up Schoolmasters and Catechists. For this purpose, the pupils are instructed, by a superior Teacher, in literal Arabic, Reading and Writing, Composition, Arithmetic, and Geography: they are also to have, for an hour every day, lessons in English; which will not only enable them the better to understand their own Grammar, but also, at a future time, to read English Tracts and Books: and, in case any one should exhibit a capacity for Translation, peculiar attention will be paid to him in this branch. However, the principal part of instruction given by Mr. Krusé himself will always be religious, making them acquainted with the doctrines of the Bible, and with Church History. In the first instance, the greatest attention will be given, and all instructions directed, to make them true Christians; for, except their hearts are truly converted to Christ, all other attainments will be in vain. They are therefore (besides receiving religious instruction) under the constant inspection of Mr. Krusé; living in the same house, as children of the same family; and attending Morning and Evening Prayers: so that, whether they are learning in the School, or otherwise employed in their leisure hours, in whatever they do, truly Christian Principles will be inculcated upon their minds.

The advantage of a fixed Establishment, of the nature above mentioned, may further appear, from the following remarks of Mr. Müller:—

On Sundays, some grown-up persons occasionally come to the School, for the purpose of attending Divine Service. I have also commenced a Catechetical Exercise of the Children, on Sunday Afternoon; which is necessary, especially in the Summer, when the days are long, lest they should remain too long idle.

The particular duty assigned to Mr. Lieder is to make journeys in all parts of the Pasha's Dominion, circulating the Holy Scriptures and Tracts, and, in a conversational way, preaching to all. His experience, in past years, pointed him out as more especially adapted for this work. By the last accounts, he was preparing for a journey of this kind, as far south as Dongola.

ABYSSINIA.

During the past year, the Rev. Samuel Gobat visited Europe, and spent some time in this Country. The Report which he made, in repeated conversations with the Committee, was such, as highly to encourage them in reference to the Abyssinian Mission. Already the Committee had sent forth another Missionary, the Rev. C. W. Isenberg; who has been partly resident in Egypt, and partly on a visit to Jerusalem, to make himself acquainted with the Abyssinians in those parts, previously to his entering Abyssinia.

The Committee have great pleasure in stating, that the entire communications of Mr. Gobat, which it was at one time apprehended were lost, have been carefully drawn up by him, in the form of a complete Journal of his Residence in Abyssinia. This has been just passed through the Press, accompanied by a valuable Map of Abyssinia, drawn from former materials, augmented and corrected by Mr. Gobat's communications. The volume may be regarded as an important accession to modern Missionary Literature.

Two Missionary Students from Bâsle have arrived in this country, and are in a course of preparation for joining, in due season, the Abyssinian Mission. Mr. Gobat is, also, on the point of returning to Egypt, accompanied by two Mechanics; hoping to depart, all of them, with Mr. Isenberg, for Abyssinia, to renew, if it should please God, the labours which have been so acceptable to many of the Natives in that Country.

CALCUTTA AND NORTH-INDIA MISSION.

Of the state of this Mission the Committee are enabled to report, that, although some perplexing circumstances have arisen respecting a Native Youth seeking Christian Instruction from one of the Society's Missionaries, yet, on the whole, there is a manifest increase of the spirit of religious inquiry, and of a disposition to hear the Gospel. Such of the Society's Missionaries as reside at the Presidency have enjoyed the privilege of joining in the Monthly Clerical Meetings of the Bishop of Calcutta; where, in the midst of his Clergy, full and profitable conversations are maintained on the most vital points, respecting personal holiness and ministerial usefulness; the whole accompanied with prayer for the special blessing of the Holy Spirit.

The Bishop has likewise addressed a Letter to all Missionaries within his Diocese, on the subject of Caste—a subject on which many professed Converts have long been tenacious, manifesting a temper which one of our Missionaries appropriately terms "Caste-pride."*

From the accounts of the varied labours of the Rev. T. Sandys, in Calcutta, the Committee select the following short statement:—

You will be glad (Mr. Sandys writes) to hear that last evening (Wednesday, August 7th) I had the happiness to admit into the Church of Christ, by Baptism, twelve individuals; ten of whom are Adults, and two Children: all of them had been brought to a knowledge of the Truth within the past year. I introduced one of the Candidates, on the day preceding the Baptism, to the Bishop; who examined him as to his knowledge of the principles of the Christian Religion—his reasons for embracing it—and his intentions as to his future conduct. The Bishop was pleased with the manner in which the Convert answered the questions, and gave him the best advice for his future guidance. A work of grace has being going on at Digheepar, a village about fifty-six miles south of Calcutta. I have the prospect of baptizing twenty persons, or more, when I revisit that place.

Mr. Sandys holds an early Service, on Sunday Mornings, for the Portuguese.

Preaching has been continued weekly, in the Chapel at Potuldunga; and has been numerously attended by Hindoos and Mahomedans, who have heard the Gospel explained, and have received Tracts.

The Journals of the Rev. T. Sandys, besides relating his other engagements of a ministerial nature, give frequent accounts of the familiar discussions which he holds with the Natives. That which is yet to be desired, is, a spirit, in those who understand the Gospel, willing, for its sake, to take up the Cross, deny self, leave father, mother, brethren, sisters, houses and lands, and follow Christ.

In the work of Education at and near Calcutta, it is stated that there are five Schools, in connexion with this Station; and a very promising field has lately opened at and near Culpee, below Diamond Harbour. At all these places respectively, there are Schools; which, together with the Schools supported by the Church Missionary Association, the Christian School of 22 Native Boys on the Premises, and the Girls' School superintended by Mrs. Sandys, contain, in all, upward of 900 Children. The English School on the Mission Premises is in a flourishing condition, under the care and superintendence of Baboo Krishna Mohana Banerjea. There are now about 200 pupils on the list, about 160 of whom are in daily attendance.

Besides these labours, a Hindoostanee School has been established, containing 32 scholars, which is superintended by a Christian Molwee. This person reads the Scriptures also, and gives information to inquirers on the subject of Christianity; and, through him, several have been led to desire Baptism:—and these, joining with the Female Branch in Worship on Sunday Evening, form a Congregation, sometimes, of about sixty persons. There are in the Schools connected with the Calcutta Mission between 1100 and 1200 Children.

Care for the souls of Heathen Servants has manifested itself in Calcutta, as previously in Madras, by the formation of a Society expressly designed to furnish the means of Christian Instruction in private houses. Concerning this, Mr. Sandys thus reports:—

The Committee of the Christian-Instruction Society met at the Mission House; when it appeared that, during the month, 79 Heathen Servants, attached to 7 Christian Families, had heard the Word of God read and explained: 4 Native-Christian Females were learning to read the Hindoostanee New Testament, 2 the Hindoostanee Prayer-Book, and 5 the elements of these languages: 4 copies of Martyn's Hindoostanee Testament, 5 copies of parts of the Liturgy in Hindoostanee and Hinduwee, 5 Spelling-books, 6 Catechisms, and 9 Tracts, had been brought into use by the Reader, during the month.

Concerning the operations of the Press, it is stated—

The Press has been chiefly employed, in English, on the Christian Intelligencer, Reports, Select Sermons, and an edition of Watson's Apology, which has been printed by subscription, to meet, as much as may be, the Infidel Publications circulated among the young educated Natives.

Editions of the Scriptures in Persian and Hinduwee are being printed for the Bible Society. The chief Native Works for the Corresponding Committee have been, Genesis, with Fuller's Instructive Remarks, translated by the Rev. M. Wilkinson, and portions of Keith on the Prophecies, the progress of which has suffered much interruption.

BURDWAN DISTRICT.

The Rev. J. J. Weitbrecht describes, in the following terms, the utility of constant superintendence on the part of the Missionaries over the Catechists. He observes:—

My Catechists appear more diligent and zealous since I have commenced going out with them, to testify of the name of Christ. What the apostolic Schwartz, in the South, said concerning Native Helpers, I find truly verified here: "The Heathen are often very uncivil, and repulse the Catechists sternly, which greatly discourages the poor people." It is indeed most desirable that we should comfort them, and confess the Lord Jesus with them before the Heathen: when left alone, their endeavours appear to be of little effect.

There are at Burdwan 9 Schools, in which are 663 Boys; of whom 327 are reading, in various stages of progress.

At Bancoorah it was reported, in May last, that

The Schools are vastly improving. There were 350 Boys, and 36 Girls, in attendance.

The establishment of Schools consists now of six for Boys, and one for Girls. The expense of these Schools is all borne by the residents at Bancoorah. Mr. Krückeberg, in superintending the Schools, takes every opportunity of conversing with the Natives on the subject of Christianity; and has become acquainted with some instances of the Boys having read their Scripture Lessons to their relatives at home.

Mr. Alexander continues to superintend four Schools at Culna, in which there are 300 Scholars: of these, 97 are reading the Gospels, Ellerton's Dialogues, and Geography. There is also an English School, in which from 30 to 38 Youths attend daily.

At Nuddea, the celebrated place of Hindoo Learning, the Rev. W. J. Deerr, previously to his quitting India, had succeeded in establishing two Schools, and introducing the Gospels into them as a class-book.

Mr. Deerr thus describes his feelings of delight on witnessing the success of his plans. He writes—

On passing into Nuddea, a number of Brahmins joined our company. I found 135 Boys present in the School: 150 are on the list. All were busily employed in writing; and when I reached the end of the school-room, where the two first classes sat, I was so agreeably surprised, that I could not speak for joy;—for they read the Gospel! I hope our friends will praise and bless the Lord with us. The Banner of the Cross is now raised in the midst of the headquarters of Brahminism.

The Rev. J. Hæberlin carries on these operations since his appointment at Krishnaghur in January last.

In August, 1832, Mr. Weitbrecht commenced a School, with 100 Hindoo Boys, at Rangram, a large village two miles from Bancoorah. The chief men of the village had, some months previously, sent a petition, requesting Mr. Weitbrecht to instruct their children.

GORRUCKPORE.

The Rev. Michael Wilkinson has long laboured at this Station, but, from ill health, is about to revisit this Country. He is assisted by Mr. R. V. Reynolds, whose health has been perfectly re-established by his removal to Gorruckpore. Both Mr. Wilkinson and he have made extensive journeys throughout the District, to make known the truths of the Gospel. Everywhere a disposition to enter on the subject of the Christian Religion was manifested. Mr. Wilkinson draws this disheartening picture, still looking to the right Source of encouragement. He says:—

I go a great deal among these people; but such are their habits of life, that it is hard to conceive how they can ever become Christians. Wandering habits—a lawless life—drinking, and smoking intoxicating herbs—are things not easily eradicated. But Divine Grace is omnipotent; and it must be pre-eminently displayed in behalf of these, if at all.

In Five Schools are reported 89 Boys; and a Girls' School contains 11 Girls. These are supported by the Gorruckpore Church Missionary Association; as are also a Boys' and Girls' Seminary, containing about 12 Children each.

BUXAR.

To this Station Mr. J. Macleod has been appointed, as Catechist.

It appears, that, during the past year, 5 Schools have been opened in adjoining villages; in which nearly 200 Boys have been prepared, so far as to be able, in four or five months, to read the Gospel, and commit to memory portions of the poem called "Substance of the Bible." The expense of these Schools has been supplied by friends at the Station. Mr. Macleod's duties are, Social Worship three times a week in Hindostanee; one Service in English on Sunday Morning, and one in Hindostanee in the evening. The children of the European Invalids are catechized on Fridays, and the Native Christian Women on Saturdays.

The Native Christian Women (Mr. Macleod writes) are making a slow, but, I trust, profitable progress in the Scriptures; and the Children have committed to memory part of the First Chapter of St. Luke's Gospel, with a complete understanding of what they have learnt.

At one of the Villages, I am told that numbers collect, at night, to hear the Testament and the Tracts read.

BENARES.

Concerning this Station, which it was the wish of the Parent Committee to reinforce, with the view of securing to so vast and important a City more of Missionary labour, the Calcutta Corresponding Committee report as follows:—

This Station has been strengthened by the arrival of the Rev. Messrs. Knorpp and Leupolt. The Rev. W. Smith has for some time past devoted a portion of most days to intercourse with the Natives. The arguments with which he is often met, show that the Christian Scriptures are read by the Natives, and sometimes the objections urged must have been derived from European sources. In January last, Mr. Smith baptized a Hindoo: "The first," he observes, "since I have been stationed here."

It is further stated by the Corresponding Committee:—

The Chapel in the Sepoy Lines is usually attended, on Sunday Morning, by nearly 40 Native Christians, and on Thursday Evening by about 30. Mr. Smith writes: "I am thankful to say, that, in reference to several of the Native Christians, I have much comfort and encouragement; and the Congregation, generally, hear the Word with much attention."

There are 3 Native Schools, containing 80 Boys, reading Genesis, St. Matthew's Gospel, Catechism, and Brief History of the Bible, all in Hinduwee. These Schools have been re-established only about fifteen months. The progress of the Boys for the time is reported as pleasing, and their answers to questions are generally satisfactory.

Of Jay Narain Ghossaul's Charity School in the City, Mr. Smith reports that he has been much pleased lately with the progress of the Boys. There are in usual attendance 167 Boys, viz. 56 acquiring English in two classes, 60 learning Persian, 20 in Bengalee, and 22 reading Hinduwee. In all these languages, the Christian Scriptures and a Catechism are read by the Scholars; besides which, the English Classes are instructed in the Outline of Ancient History, Goldsmith's History of England, Blair's Universal Preceptor, Goldsmith's Grammar of Geography, Robinson's Grammar of History, and the Use of the Globes.

CHUNAR.

The Rev. W. Bowley has continued to itinerate throughout the neighbourhood, as in former years; and has visited Mirzapore, Jaunpore, and Buxar; going from Village to Village, and endeavouring to excite a spirit of inquiry in the minds of the people. At one place, an aged Rajah, a Brahmin and of great wealth, who has often heard the Gospel from Mr. Bowley, is spoken of as "all but a Baptized Christian." At another place, Mr. Bowley relates—

One first-rate man, a Brahmin, who had some discussion with the Missionaries before, went beyond most of the enraged persons I have met with. He was very violent, and made use of threatening language; saying, that for presuming to take the office of the Brahmins upon ourselves, by reading and expounding to the people, we deserved to have our tongues cut off, and our hearers to have melted lead poured into their ears.

He also gives the following instance of the manner in which the absurdities of the Hindoo faith are met by him:—

One man said: "It is written, and we believe it, that Brumha dwells in the root of the Peepul-tree, Roodre in the trunk, Vishnu in the branches, and all the gods in the leaves of it; and therefore we worship it." Answer: "Yes; and though this tree be full of gods, yet you see the elephant comes and devours it. If what you say were true, the gods would surely destroy their adversary, who came to destroy them!"

It appears, that, up to the end of the last year, the expenses of two Schools, the salaries of two Christian Readers, and the printing of 3900 Tracts, have been supplied by this Association. In the review of his labours, Mr. Bowley adds:

I am by no means prepared to state that there is much prospect of the people renouncing their false ways and embracing Christianity in bodies at present; but I fully believe this will be the case by and bye.

KURNAUL.

At Kurnaul, Anund Messeeh, during the past year, has been actively engaged, as heretofore, in his work;—teaching, preaching, visiting the sick, and distributing portions of the Sacred Scriptures. A Correspondent thus relates concerning his labours:—

In giving them some idea of Geography, Anund illustrates his lessons by using a small Globe which I made for him, and a Book of Maps with which I have furnished him. This is a most interesting subject to the Boys: they look at and examine, with open mouths and eyes, the division of the surface of the world into land and water—so strange, compared with the Seven Countries, and the Seven Seas of milk, honey, ghee, &c. &c., which they had heard of from their philosophical Pundits!

In noticing Anund's endeavours to instruct his scholars rightly on this head, I cannot help observing, that he has often told me, with real pleasure, of Mrs. Sherwood's kindness, at the time his mind was becoming gradually illumined on heavenly and earthly things, in making for him a globe of silk stuffed with cotton, to correct his own fabulous notions of geography. This simple thing had a wonderful effect, in biassing his mind to receive the religious instructions of that Lady—now some sixteen years ago; whose object it was to lead him to become, not only almost, but altogether, a Christian. His present life evinces how much her endeavours have been blessed.

It is briefly added, concerning Patna and Allahabad, as follows:—

The Corresponding Committee support also a School and Reader at Patna; but no recent account of proceedings at that Station has been received. At Allahabad, the funds left by the Rev. G. W. Crawfurd, for the support of Schools, have been exhausted; but the Catechist has one School of about 40 Boys in his Compound; and he reads

Prayers and the Scriptures, in Hindoostanee, in the Invalid Lines, on Sunday Mornings, when about 20 or 25 Native Christians attend.

The Corresponding Committee remark, that there is one striking feature of encouragement with regard to the North-India Mission; namely, the increasing interest which is manifested by the residents at the Up-country Stations; by means of which the expenses of several Schools have been defrayed, without application to the Parent Society.

On the state of public opinion prevailing also in that Presidency, the Corresponding Committee remark:—

We may add, that the spirit of an opposing infidelity, which has so long been entering its protest against the glorious work of converting the Heathen to the Faith of Christ, although it has not yet lost its enmity, has become more subdued. This is a great point gained; and there is much reason for thankfulness that Missionaries are permitted to proceed in quietness to cultivate the vineyard which the Lord has planted.*

MADRAS AND SOUTH-INDIA MISSION.

The departure of the Rev. John Tucker for Madras was stated in the last Report. He has since arrived, and entered upon the duties of Secretary to the Corresponding Committee. His labours in this situation, and his affectionate intercourse and correspondence with the Missionaries in South India, give the liveliest promise of his usefulness in the Mission. The Committee earnestly implore the Divine Blessing upon him and his fellow-labourers in that fruitful Missionary field.

The Rev. Charles Blackman and the Rev. Edmund Dent

* Full particulars concerning the state of the North-India Mission are given in the Church Missionary Record for 1833, pp. 165—181, 185—188; and 1834, 1—7. A remarkable document, also, sent from this Station, is given in the Appendix to this Report; illustrating the vain repetitions of the Heathen, and their adoration of corruptible and perishing objects.

are constantly engaged in performing both English and Native Services. In Black Town, Divine Worship is regularly conducted in the Chapel; and, by these means, some hundreds every week hear the Word of God read and preached.

From the Perambore Seminary several Youths have been sent out into the Mission. Two of them, since they left the Seminary, have been removed by death: one died of Cholera, and the other is supposed to have been maliciously destroyed by poison. The pupils who remain are likely to prove useful, either as Superintendants of Schools, Catechists, or Schoolmasters.

MAYAVERAM.

At this Station, the Rev. J. C. T. Winckler has continued to labour with great zeal; but the Committee regret that the state of his health has required that he should return to Europe.

Of the readiness with which the Natives sometimes hear him, after his making his Mission a subject of special prayer, he states—

> It is really as if the Lord opened at such times the door of their hearts, which at other seasons seems shut.

TINNEVELLY.

At this Station, which has been for so many years favoured with the manifest blessing of God's Holy Spirit, the Rev. Messrs. Rhenius, Schaffter, Fjellstedt, Müller, and Devasagayam, continue to labour. The opposition also raised by the Enemy of Souls is very great, tending clearly to evince the progress of the work of Grace. It were endless to repeat the vexatious persecutions suffered by the Converts, both in public and in private. Mr. Rhenius relates of one Heathen Woman:—

> She became acquainted with the Gospel; and was so much delighted with it, that she embraced it. At this, her parents became angry, and began to persecute her most cruelly: once they poured a boiling liquid upon her body: still, she would not leave off going to hear the Word of God.

Notwithstanding these domestic persecutions, Mr. Rhenius adds concerning her:—

> The Word of God and the Church are her delight. Her parents do not assist her at all, and are still angry with her; but when her mother was lately sick, she went and attended to the business of the house for her. Even the Heathen speak well of her. Thus the Lord magnifies His grace, in the poor members of His body.

Of the ardent affection with which, notwithstanding these troubles, the Gospel is received by many, some idea may be formed from a fact stated by Mr. Rhenius on occasion of his administering the Holy Communion:—

> In the evening, we partook of the Lord's Supper with seventy

Natives; including four or five women, some of whom had come fifteen miles, and some forty miles, distance, for the purpose.

Mr. Müller also states, that, as he was preaching on one occasion, a boy of about twelve years of age was so affected with the Truth, that he came forward and asked—"But, Sirs, can we not embrace your Religion, and keep ours too?" The Missionaries, of course, explained to him, that this was impossible—that No man can serve two Masters.

NILGHERRY HILLS.

The School Establishment at this Station has been under the charge of the Rev. J. B. Morewood; but ill health, the Committee regret to state, will require his return to Europe. The first Public Examination of the School took place October 19, 1833. The studies of the pupils had been of considerable extent, both in Theology and General Literature. It is particularly stated, that "The Bible Class showed a correct knowledge of the most minute incidents recorded in the Pentateuch."

COTTAYAM.

The Society's Establishment at this Station, the Committee regret to state, needs reinforcement. Notwithstanding many trials and difficulties, however, there is still the clearest evidence that the Syrian Church has received, and continues to derive, much benefit from the plans of the Church Missionary Society.

The latest information received from Mr. Tucker concerning this Station is important. He states:—

This Mission appears to be fast approaching to that crisis, which was naturally to be expected from the constant introduction of the light of Divine Truth. Amidst all the gloom which pervades the Syrian community, it is easy to trace bright beams of light. The fact, that young men educated in the Grammar School have established independent schools, is a sign that knowledge is an article in demand; and there never was a time when there was such a demand for Scripture and Tracts, and for the preaching of God's Word.

ALLEPIE.

At this Station, the Rev. Thomas Norton continues his labours. Of the effect of these, he remarks—

There is a very general feeling, that the Christian Religion is good and profitable: but this feeling is too low and weak to influence them to renounce the world and caste, and to flee to Christ for His saving Grace. My Moonshee said openly the other day: "The Christian Religion is true; and I know, that by it only can I be saved." When this man acknowledged that the fear of losing caste kept him back, and was reminded of the duty of giving up all for the Gospel, he replied: "Yes; I know this; and one day I must believe in Christ, and confess Him."*

BOMBAY AND WESTERN-INDIA MISSION.

It was reported last year, that the three Missionaries of the Society had removed into a more interior part of this Presidency. They have now for many months exercised their Mission at Nassuck. The spirit with which such labours should be begun, has not been lost sight of by our Missionaries. Mr. Farrar relates:—

We have appointed two Meetings in the month for united prayer and deliberation; when we may consider the circumstances of the past, and arrange what may be the best mode of proceeding for the future.

The opposition with which the Missionaries meet, but to which they have returned only words of Truth and the meekness of wisdom, is partly to be accounted for by the circumstance, that the Gospel is almost a new subject in that region; and partly it may be ascribed to the fierce and unsubdued spirit of the Mahratta race. Mr. Mitchell thus feelingly describes their bitter spirit:—

I went to the Brahmins. With a mock civility, which imposed on me, they gave me a seat. For a few minutes, we talked quietly together on the grand points of our difference: the fire then blazed: they became so very angry, that I would have left them, but for the crowd of Soodras (people of the lowest caste or rank) that had assembled around. For their sakes, I went on talking to the Brahmins, till it was a clear duty to retire: I told them that I felt it to be so. I then addressed the Soodras; but, encouraged by the example and presence of their superiors, they were just as bad, only their language was coarser. Our Pundit well says, "This is the work which kills Missionaries so soon."

Concerning the Education of Females, an undertaking which was expected to meet with difficulties, as the attempt was new, and the bigotry of the people is strong, Mrs. Farrar relates the following circumstances, full of hope and encouragement:—

We have, you are aware, under our own roof, a School for Destitute

Females: there are at present 40 Girls in the School. They are so accustomed to be interrogated about what they read, that they now begin to try to think and understand a little for themselves. All have made great progress in singing in the native style; a point we consider as deserving attention, as it is attractive to both children and parents. Besides, we hope soon to introduce the singing of Hymns into our daily Mahratta Service.*

CEYLON MISSION.

UPON occasion of the Annual Meeting of the Society's Missionaries in Ceylon, it is very delightful to read the testimony thus borne by the Rev. S. Lambrick, in a Letter dated Oct. 10, 1832:—

We have renewed calls upon our gratitude to our gracious Lord, in that He has again given us to be of one heart and of one mind on the subjects which came before us, and that He has maintained brotherly love among us.

COTTA.

The labours in the Ministry at this Station are thus reported:—

There are every Sunday, ten different Religious Services; three in the morning at 8 o'clock, at some of the Schools; two in the forenoon at Cotta at half-past 11 o'clock; the one in English conducted by Br. Lambrick, and the other in Singalhese by the Brethren Baile and Selkirk, one preaching, and the other reading prayers; four Services at half-past 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at the Schools in different villages from those in which we preach in the morning; and one in English, in the evening at half-past 6 o'clock, part of which is always taken by Br. Lambrick, and the other part by the two other Brethren alternately. The number of persons who hear the Gospel preached at this Station, every Sunday, all of them once, and some twice, is, on an average, 485.

The Annual Examination of the Students in the CHRISTIAN INSTITUTION at Cotta was held on Thursday the 13th December, before the Right Hon. the Governor; Lady Wilmot Horton; and a large assembly of the Ladies and Gentlemen of Colombo.

The following are the subjects in which the Students were prepared to be examined—Theology, English Reading and Grammar, Latin,

* For further particulars of this Mission, see Church Missionary Record for 1833, pp. 129—133, 209—215; and 1834, pp. 17—23.

Greek, Hebrew, Geography, Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, and Trigonometry.

In reference to the important work of Scriptural Translation, it is stated, March 8, 1833:—

The translation of the whole of the Prophets is completed, and printed as far as Jeremiah xl. The probability is, that we shall complete the whole Bible before the end of the year; which being accomplished, we must have a new edition of the New Testament, numerous applications for copies having been made; but, to our great regret, we have not a single copy left.

From the Report of the Press at Cotta for 1832, it appears that their operations had greatly increased. There had been printed, during twelve months, 21,000 copies of different portions of the Holy Scriptures; 30,000 Tracts for the Church Missionary Society; and for other Institutions, upward of 15,000 Tracts and Papers.

KANDY.

The health of the Rev. T. Browning, who labours at this Station, has greatly suffered during the past year. That his preaching has not been without success, will appear from the following remarks, made by him on a careful review of his labours:—

A powerful stand has been made for the Truth, by the faithful declaration of the Gospel in many places—by the translation of the Holy Scriptures and the Book of Common Prayer into the vernacular language of the people—and by the circulation of numerous Tracts upon the chief doctrines and precepts of Christianity. Some of the Kandians have an idea that the Buddhist Religion is about to come to nought, and that the Christian Religion is to be set up in its stead. It is a well-known fact, that many of the Kandians are relaxing in their zeal for Buddhism, and that the influence of the Priests is declining; but there is reason to fear, that it is rather a wish to live without the restraints of any religion, than a wish to embrace the Gospel of Christ, that leads them to adopt this line of conduct.

BADDAGAME.

The Rev. G. C. Trimnell and the Rev. G. S. Faught continue at this Station. They state—

The Gospel is preached every Sunday, in the morning in the Church, and in the evening at one of the Mission Houses, alternately; at some one of the Schools, in rotation, twice or three times in the week; and at the houses of such of the Natives as can gather a congregation, as often as circumstances will admit. The Congregation at Church is good—upon an average, between 300 and 400, generally nearer 400.

A review of the origin and progress of this Station is thus exhibited:—

At this Station, before Messrs. Mayor and Ward came to reside here, though the greater part of the population was nominally Christian, in consequence of a law made by the Dutch Government that none should inherit property but those who were baptized and registered, the grossest darkness and ignorance prevailed. There was a Government School, and there were two nominally Christian Masters; but their chief employment in the school was, publishing the banns of marriage. The children were also taught to repeat the Lord's Prayer, the Creed, and the Ten Commandments, but in such a dialect as would leave it doubtful, with most of them, which of the three was the Prayer, and which the Creed. The ignorance of the females was even greater than that of the other sex; and I have been told, that, before the Missionaries came, a needle had never been seen here. Such was the state of the people before our Missionaries settled among them, which is now about fourteen years ago. In point of knowledge, there can be no doubt a very considerable advance has been made.

The Word of God is the chief book read in our Schools. Catechisms are taught, and portions of Scripture are committed to memory. The number of Boys in these Schools is between 400 and 500, of nearly all ranks and classes in society. On a hill, now called Church Hill, which a few years ago was an uncultivated jungle or wood, stands a commodious, substantial stone church, with a tower and bell: in this church, Divine Service is held every Lord's Day; and it is, in general, pretty well filled.

NELLORE.

The health of the Rev. J. Knight and Mrs. Knight has suffered much during the past year. There appears to have been at this Station a considerable revival of Religion. The Rev. W. Adley states:—

Soon after the commencement of the year, our attention was excited by observing a more than ordinary degree of diligence, in many at the Station, in Religious Duties—an increased attention being at the same time manifest in some of the Masters of the Free Schools; and our hopes were also much encouraged by many pleasing indications of the Lord's being near at hand, to sanction by His presence, and crown with His blessing, the appointed means of Grace. Though our expectations, thus excited, have not been realised to the full extent, by the in-gathering of many from among the Heathen into the ark of Christ's Church; yet several have, we trust, been awakened to a more diligent attention to spiritual things.

AUSTRALASIA MISSION.

NEW HOLLAND.

The departure of the Rev. Messrs. Watson and Handt for Wellington Valley was stated in the last Report. They have since established themselves at that Station.

The claims of this Mission are likely to become great; but the degradation of the Natives is so extreme, that, while they call for our pity, they will need, on the part of our Labourers, unfailing faith and patience. The female character is here, as in all unevangelized countries, exceedingly depressed. Mr. Watson remarks—

> The wives of the Blacks are obliged to carry their weapons; their provisions, when they have any; and their little children also. They must also do all the work: in return for which, the husband, when in an ill humour, takes his club, and wounds her head or some part of her body. This is one of the fruits of Heathenism!

In their apprehensions of Religion, the Natives of New Holland are most awfully in the dark. God they know not; and all their religion seems to be Fear. It is remarked of them by the Missionaries—

> Although they have no idea of a Supreme Being, yet their fear of the Evil Spirit is very great. They call him Wandang, and also Bugeen. They say he sometimes visits them at their fires at night, and then they are extremely frightened. They attribute all their afflictions to the devil; and there are certain persons among them who profess the "healing art," by conjuring the devil out of the sick man. They have different methods of attempting this. If near to a river, they make a circle on the ground with their club; and after repeating something, they cast a stone into the water, and say that is the devil. When not near to any river or pond, they make a circle on the ground, and say that they conjure the devil down there. How it is, that they should have a belief in the existence of the devil—and they have two or three names in their language for him—and know nothing of God, I cannot say.

Religious conversation is, to them, a matter of terror. Mr. Handt remarks of them—"They do not like to hear about God: they often say, 'Speak no more about that; I am very frightened!'" And again:—"I had a long conversation with the Blacks. When I told them that God loved them, one asked me, whether He was a Black." The Missionary, happily drawing his reply from that bright object of Nature which visits every land, replied, "God is neither black, nor white; but bright as the sun."

Such is the awful state in which they live and die—without God, and without hope! May it please God to bless the plans of the Society in that vast field, by revealing to these poor perishing creatures His kindness and love in Christ Jesus!*

NEW ZEALAND.

In entering on their Report of the Mission to New Zealand, the Committee feel that all the members of the Society are prepared to join with them in thanksgiving to God, for the increasing success which He vouchsafes to this Mission.

Tepuna.

The buildings have been completed at this Station; and the Mission establishment which formerly existed at Rangihoua is now transferred hither.

Kerikeri.

The labours of the Missionaries at this Station are not confined to the place of their immediate residence, but extend to the region all around. Thus, it is stated by them—

The interval between the early Morning Service, and the late Afternoon Service, is appropriated to the Natives of the Settlement, and to visiting the places near: while the Natives passing to and fro, and resting here on Sunday, not unfrequently cause our Chapel to be quite filled. The introduction of the Catechisms—simple in their construction, and yet embracing, under an easy native idiom, the all-important doctrines of the Gospel—has been found most beneficial and pleasing: so that, whether believed or not, the truths which they teach are noised abroad; and there are few Natives in the villages around but have thus heard much of them, while many have acquired the greater part of them, and can repeat them from memory. The Natives of these places have ever gladly welcomed the Missionaries, and always express themselves anxious for more frequent instruction.

It is a pleasing feature in our Mission to observe the gradual improvement in the usefulness of our resident Natives; some giving much assistance in carpentering and fencing, and all attending in a greater or less degree to our wishes and requirements.

Paihia.

A retrospective view of this Station has been given by the Missionaries, which serves to recall to the mind the hazardous state of the Mission, at its commencement, eleven years ago. They observe—

At that time, a raupou (rush) house, fourteen feet by ten, was erected in a few days, in which the families of the two Missionaries, then at the Station, lived during the first year. The Natives around were, at this time, in an exceedingly wild and uncontrollable state. A few Boys and Girls came to live with the Missionaries, but a single word from any of the Chiefs would send them all off in an instant. There are instances, in which some have joined the families for the purpose of possessing themselves of some article of clothing, or some cooking utensil, and then decamped in the course of a night or two. This conduct continued, in a greater or less degree, for two years, but not longer. Since then, the number of Natives attached to the Station has gradually increased, and their behaviour has been more orderly.

* A view of the miserable state of the Aborigines of New Holland, and the commencement of the Society's labours there, may be seen in the Church Missionary Record for 1833, pp. 88, 89, 216—218; and 1834, pp. 24—30, and 44—47. Also an account of a young Native's happy death, in pp. 37—39 of the Volume for 1834.

Of the Schools at this Station, which are five in number, it is reported—

1. The Native Boys are taught Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Catechism, &c. The average attendance is 60. The number now on the books is 71. Total taught from the beginning, 263.

2. The Native Girls are taught Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Catechism, and Sewing. The principal attendance is in the afternoon, when the average number is 40. The number now on the books is 50. Total taught from the beginning, 209.

3. The Infant School was commenced in January last; and contains 22 pupils, English and Native.

4. English Boys' School. This contains the sons of the Missionaries, 14 of whom are now under instruction. The system which has been adopted embraces Religious Instruction, Geography, History, Arithmetic, the Classics, &c.

5. The English Girls' School contained, at the commencement of the past twelvemonth, 10 pupils, including the younger children, who have since heen transferred to the Infant School. There are now but 4 pupils.

In reference to the Agricultural Proceedings, which form so necessary a part of the labours of the Missionaries, for their subsistence, it is stated—

A large addition has of late been made, by purchase, to the Society's land on each side of the Settlement; by which a good supply of timber for fuel, &c. has been secured. The land is generally barren, consisting, for the most part, of hills. The patches of low ground are available for cultivation, and afford also pasturage for the cattle. During the year, 1400 bushels of potatoes have been raised, toward the maintenance of the Schools.

Waimate.

At this flourishing Station, and in its neighbourhood, the preaching of the Gospel and the education of Youth are prosecuted with much zeal and diligence. The adjacent villages largely share in the spiritual influence which is diffused from this Station. At the same time, the necessary secular business incident to a Mission among an uncivilized people is steadily carried on. It might, indeed, excite the sympathy of friends in England to see the Missionaries thus constantly labouring in temporal concerns, while vigorously prosecuting their great spiritual objects. They are thus somewhat assimilated to the labourers under Nehemiah, who, when rebuilding Jerusalem, every one with one of his hands wrought in the work, and with the other held a weapon. Upon this subject they state:—

The work which has been done at this Station, during the last year, is as follows:—Making 40,000 bricks; all the blacksmith's work required for a waggon, carts, ploughs, &c.; all the work attendant upon erecting dwelling and out-houses, such as carpentering, bricklaying, shingling, &c.; partly erecting a Chapel; sawing 100,000 feet of board; splitting 50,000 shingles; digging a well fifty-four feet deep; breaking up and preparing ten acres of land; and permanently fencing twenty acres.

Among the many features of spiritual improvement in this vast Island, no one has been more interesting than the readiness with which the Natives, many of them, attend to the Observance of the Lord's Day. The accounts given by the Missionaries upon this subject are so remarkable, that a few of them deserve to be particularly recorded. The Rev. W. Yate remarks:—

The Natives evidently rejoice at the approach of every Sabbath; and though they are unacquainted with the expression of the sweet Singer of Israel—the Book of Psalms not having been, as yet, translated—their language and desires are similar:—I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the House of the Lord!

When we hear a loud song of praise burst from the lips of nearly 200 New Zealanders, our souls feel much inclined to bless the Lord. The regularity—it may perhaps be called the mechanical regularity—with which the whole assembly repeat the Responses of our beautiful Liturgy, is most pleasing; and the general quietness and order which prevail, are as great, or greater, than in many country churches—certainly greater than in many churches in London.

To a similar effect, Mr. R. Davis states:—

The manner in which the Lord's Day is kept by Ripi and his tribe would shame many country parishes in England. Their fire-wood is always prepared, and their potatoes are scraped and got ready, on the Saturday afternoon, to be cooked on the Sunday: and this is no new thing, as they have proceeded in this way now for a long time.

Again: the Rev. Henry Williams describes an interesting scene in his Expedition:—

At ten o'clock, all being tolerably quiet, we rang the bell for Service. It was a pleasant sound, in this wild place, and in the midst of a still wilder mob. We assembled about 100: Rewa and Te Kohikohi were the only Chiefs of note, but all were attentive. After Service, Rewa told me they should soon believe our Message.

Another relates:—

After preaching in the morning, the Rev. W. Williams and myself went to Kororarika. Although it was a very bleak cold day, more than 70 Natives, principally females, assembled from the different huts, and sat down crowding together in the open air.

It was stated, on a former occasion, that the hour of Worship sometimes was announced by the firing of a gun. The following incident, twice mentioned, describes another mode of summoning their Congregations. It is related by an Officer, who was on a visit to the Missionaries:—

During my stay there, I visited almost all the villages around; and was not a little delighted to find, in many of them, regular houses of Public Prayer, in which the villagers are daily assembled by the sound of "their bell;" which, however, was but the humble substitute of an iron hatchet or hoe, suspended by a string, and struck by a mallet. I noticed an old axe suspended outside a native house, which I understood was used by the Natives as a bell, when they assembled together for School and Public Worship. By striking the axe with a stone, the valleys resound, as with the "Church-going bell."

This plan of turning their axes, formerly instruments of war, into Church-bells, may be regarded as something like the beating of spears into pruning-hooks, and swords into plough-shares.

The value of Native Teachers has become very apparent, not only to the Missionaries, but in the eyes of the Natives themselves. It is stated—

Our senior baptized Natives now become very useful to us: we can put much more confidence in them than we could some time ago. They render us considerable assistance in the spiritual duties of the Mission, as well as in our domestic concerns. (And again)—When we visit the Natives at their residences, they are anxious for Teachers to live among them: if they cannot have Europeans, they say, "Let us have Natives who know how to karakia (preach)."

Nor is it at all surprising that Native Teachers should be held in esteem, when it is considered that they appear to be under the influence of the same Grace as that of which all true Christians are made partakers. Their language often expresses the feelings of experimental piety. Thus it is related of one on a visit to the Missionaries:—

He compared the state of his mind to a field in which potatoes were planted; the young plants thereof making but little growth, but the weeds growing luxuriantly. "What," said he, "is to be done with these weeds?" I told him, he must pull them up daily, and keep them under. "Ah!" said he, "will they never leave off to grow?" I said, "No; they will get weaker and weaker; but we shall never be altogether clear of them, till after death." "Ah!" said he, "sinful thoughts and desires are continually in motion within me, and thoughts of unbelief."

But, of all the measures in reference to this Mission, the highest in importance has been attained during the past year. The Committee refer to the printing of several complete Books of the Holy Scriptures in the Native language of New Zealand; namely, 2 Gospels, the Acts of the Apostles, the Epistle to the Romans, and the First Epistle to the Corinthians. The precious seed of the Word of God has thus been sown by the hands of our Missionary Husbandmen; and we look forward with confidence to results incalculably great, from this measure.

The Missionaries have also translated and printed the principal parts of the Liturgy; namely, the Morning and Evening Prayers; the Services for the Communion, Infant and Adult Baptism, Matrimony, Churching of Women, and the Burial of the Dead.

Under these circumstances, the Committee have felt themselves authorised to adopt two very important measures for the benefit of New Zealand. The first of these is, the sending out of a printing-press and a Printer: the other, the formation of two New Settlements.

The Committee would sum up this Report of New Zealand with quoting the words of a pious Military Officer, who recently visited New Zealand. Captain Jacob remarks:—

Since my return to New South Wales, I have carefully looked into the Missionary Reports of the place; and I am bound to say, that they are any thing but exaggerations, so far as I have had opportunity of judging from personal inspection. Indeed, I may affirm, that in no one thing was I disappointed; and in most, I was very agreeably surprised at what I saw of Missionary labours in that most interesting country.*

WEST-INDIES MISSION.

The past year will be ever memorable, in the history of this Country, for the termination of an arduous and painful conflict, which, in various forms, has agitated the Councils of the Nation during half a century. That veteran Philanthropist, whose death has been already alluded to, was permitted, by Divine Providence, to live just long enough to witness the crowning of his labours; and, after a noble warfare of fifty years, to close his eyes with peaceful triumph and adoring wonder at the thought that he had lived to see the day when the House of Commons should give twenty millions of money for the extinction of Slavery in the British Colonies.

* Very copious Journals of the Society's operations in New Zealand—the endeavours of the Missionaries to bring about peace among the Tribes at war—the dangers encountered at sea on that occasion—and, generally, the progress of Evangelization, Education, and Civilization, may be seen in the Church Missionary Record for 1833, pp. 89—98, 112—123, 218—238, 247—261; and 1834, pp. 7—12.

But this decisive measure has brought upon our nation, not indeed a new duty, but a higher degree of facility for the discharge of that duty: and, whatever difficulties may have formerly stood in the way, all must now concur in acknowledging the plain path to be, freely to communicate to the Coloured Population of every British Colony the blessings of the Christian Ministry and of Christian Education.

The Committee of the Church Missionary Society lost no time in bending their attention to this subject. They deeply felt the spiritual debt owing to a long-injured race; and they were anxious, as Christians, and as members of the Established Church, that the liberty conferred upon that vast population should be so effectually accompanied by the blessings of Christianity, that this great measure of Emancipation might, by its happy results, become a model for other Countries.

After the Committee had, in various sittings, maturely deliberated upon this weighty question, the decision was come to, to lay before his Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury, and the Lord Bishop of London, a full statement of their circumstances and views. A copy of the Memorial to the same effect was likewise forwarded to His Majesty's Secretary of State for the Colonies, tendering the Society's aid in promoting the Religious amelioration of the West-Indian Population, and requesting to participate in the funds which, it was understood, Government would appropriate to that object.

His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury suggested to the Committee, that they should lay their views before their Lordships, the Bishops of Jamaica and Barbadoes; and his Grace having offered his intervention in communicating these views to those Prelates, the Committee accordingly addressed Memorials to the Bishops of the two West-India Dioceses; which have been forwarded to them by His Grace the Archbishop; and the answers are shortly expected.

JAMAICA.

The only Catechists at this Station from this Country are Mr. Stearn and two Messrs. Forbes; but the Committee have sent forth, during the last month, one ordained Missionary, the Rev. W. K. Betts, and Mrs. Betts, who have laboured several years in Sierra Leone. The Committee have set apart, provisionally, for this Station, several other Missionaries and Catechists.

BRITISH GUIANA.

At the Station of Leguan, Mr. Carter had met with unfavourable circumstances, which had occasioned him to move to another field of usefulness. Describing the state of the Schools under his charge, he mentions:—

Some are going on very attentively in Divine things, and are evidencing that my labours among them are not in vain, by giving up their sins; and some, especially of the adults, by entering into the holy estate of matrimony, which has not been the case till of late.

Mr. Armstrong has returned from his Station at Bartica Point, with a view to receiving ordination in this Country: but his labours are continued and followed up, with much zeal, by Mr. Youd.

Such is the very brief outline of the Society's labours in these regions. It is their earnest hope and prayer to God, that, as He has now said to the prisoners, Go forth, and to the captives, Show yourselves, He will also bestow His blessing upon this and every other faithful attempt to impart to them the glorious Gospel of the grace of God. *

NORTH-WEST-AMERICA MISSION.

The Communications of the Rev. Messrs. Jones and Cockran were this year delayed far beyond the usual period of their arrival, in consequence of the Company's ships having been frozen up in Hudson's Bay, which rendered it necessary to send despatches overland.

It is consolatory to learn, that the work appears abundantly to prosper under their hand. The building of Churches, preaching, administering the means of Grace, and teaching in Schools, have been their unceasing, and sometimes almost overwhelming, occupations.

Mr. Jones thus describes the state of his Congregation:— "The Church very crowded, and many people out of doors."— And three months later, he adds: "Another circumstance, of a pleasing nature to me, is, that the number of Indian Children and Youths, at both the Sunday and Day Schools, is more than doubled."

Mr. Cockran, who appears also to be rejoicing in his work

* Some Account of this Mission will be seen in the Church Missionary Record for 1834, pp. 12, 13; and pp. 83, 84.

and prospects, meets in his Congregation with many instances of encouragement. He describes one woman, who had come into the neighbourhood of the Mission, and who at first made all possible excuses for absenting herself from the house of God. But, through the power of the Gospel, he observes concerning her:—

She now needs no argument to bring her to a sense of her duty, and to lead her to sanctify the Sabbath. No; she comes with the first of them: her cumbersome family, the stormy weather, and other hindrances which invariably press upon the poor cottager, all give way to her attendance on the worship of God.

And in his last letter, he states:—

Some have regularly attended the Church every Sunday for three years. It never enters into their minds, that a slight cough, a soaking rain, a heavy snow-storm, or a piercing cold, are any excuses to detain them from public worship. They have made up their minds to be found in the House of God always; and they have hitherto found their strength equal to their day.*

CONCLUDING REMARKS.

THE Committee, on reviewing, in conclusion, the proceedings of the past year, perceive that there are abundant grounds for renewed gratitude to God: and while they would rejoice with trembling, they would remember, also, that the Christian's Missionary Hopes are such as will never suffer disappointment in the end.

It is an encouraging circumstance, that, during the last twelve months, the Committee have, from their different Stations, received assurances of the steady progress of the Missionary Work, accompanied with the most earnest entreaties for the enlargement of their plans. It is equally gratifying to be able to state, that the liberality of the Christian Public in general, and of the Members of our Church in particular, has responded to the loud call of the unevangelized world. The Committee would express their humble but sincere conviction, that these effects proceed from the gracious operation of the Holy Spirit of God; who manifests His work by increasing personal piety among our countrymen at home, and kindling the first sparks of it in the hearts of our fellow-men abroad; disposing us to give, and them to receive, the unspeakable blessings of the knowledge of salvation by Christ Jesus.

But if the present be a season of praise and holy gratulation, it is a time also in which every Christian is called to give himself much to meditation and prayer. In this, and many other Nations of the Earth, the powers of Christ and of Belial appear, more distinctly than ever, to be drawing out their array. Each party seems to be more intelligent, as to its design; and each more prompt to seize the opportunities of promoting their purposes.

It is evident to every reflecting mind, that, in many parts of the world, these three Powers, Knowledge, Liberty, and Intercourse, have far out-grown their first rudiments, and are rapidly advancing in strength, extent, and activity. The Christian beholds this speed of human minds with awe. Happily, when he combines with this view the prospects of the great Missionary Cause, he discovers grounds for hope. Knowledge, indeed, puffeth up; but the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus our Lord, who is now preached in so many Nations, will tend to humble, as well as to exalt both Individuals and Nations. Liberty, if men set up an idol of their own invention, will leave its votaries yet more than ever the slaves of sin and Satan; but genuine Evangelical Liberty will tend to restrain unreasonable and wicked men, and will cause the Word of the Lord to have free course and be glorified. Intercourse between man and man, or between nation and nation, if it be not sanctified, will only give rapidity to human follies and human crimes; but if Christian bodies avail themselves of the increasing facilities of intercourse throughout the earth, then every modern invention of art will, through God's blessing, be made instrumental in enlarging the family of God: it will give to the members of that family the means of oftener seeing and better understanding one another: it will multiply the brotherly affections, as well as the numbers, of true Christians: and our hearts will comprehend, in a far purer degree than formerly, the spirit of the Apostolic benediction—Grace be with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity!

The Committee have thus alluded to some of the leading principles of the Gospel, in connexion with the character of our times; because they regard Missionary Societies as peculiarly adapted both to keep pace with, and to regulate, the movements of the present day. It is, however, a vast charge, to bear even a part in directing Knowledge, Liberty, and Intercourse, to their best ends. The main anxiety of the Committee, in these circumstances, has been, to ascertain and to preserve their true position, in reference to the obligations of our Church toward all the world. Finding, as they do, secular details immensely increasing upon their hands, while the vital necessity of spirituality is felt in every department of Missionary labours, it has been their aim so to distribute their work, as to have a good hope of the continuance of God's favour among them. They have constantly looked around, both at home and in foreign Countries, for the co-operation of spiritually-minded men; persuaded that these alone are the instruments whom God will bless: and they have often looked upward, for that assisting grace of their God and Saviour, which is freely given, and which never fails from age to age.

It is, at the same time, a matter of much regret, that while the funds have so largely advanced, the offers of Candidates for Missionary Service have not proportionably increased. Men, devoted and able men, having the mind of Christ, do not as yet present themselves in that number which is to be desired; while the whole world is crying in our ears, "Come over and help us!"

The Committee would therefore most earnestly invite all the supporters of this Society to abound more and more in prayer to God, that He would pour down upon His whole Church the abundant grace of His Holy Spirit—that piety may be increased in our Church and in the Nation at large—that fit Missionary Candidates may press forward to the work—that multitudes from among the unevangelized Nations of the Earth may flock into the fold of Christ—and that all professing Converts may be protected, comforted, and built up in their most Holy Faith.

With these mingled feelings of thankfulness, solicitude, and hope, the Committee cheerfully transmit their office to those who shall be appointed for the next year; heartily commending every Officer, Subscriber, Labourer, and Friend of this Institution to the God of all Grace. Nor can they better point to the mark of the Society's high calling, than by repeating, in the name of the Universal Church of Christ, the inviting command of the sweet Psalmist of Israel—himself a glorious type of our exalted Redeemer and Head:—Kings of the earth, and all people; princes, and all judges of the earth; both young men and maidens, old men and children; let them praise the name of the Lord: for His name alone is excellent; His glory is above the earth and heaven!

APPENDIX.

THE following is a literal translation of a Formulary of Devotion, in use among the Brahmins; communicated by one of the Missionaries of the Church Missionary Society. (See p. 47.) If the Mythology of India, or of any other Country in ancient or modern times, were to be considered merely as a subject of critical research and amusement, this document might furnish some materials for literary men: but it is here given, rather for the purpose of exhibiting to the friends of Christianity that most affecting state of intellectual and moral degradation, in which multitudes of ignorant devotees are constantly beguiled by their artful priesthood. In this unmeaning repetition of images, drawn indeed from Nature, and professing to lead to Nature's God, there is, in the view of an intelligent Christian, nothing more than a trick played off upon the fancy; tending to darken and pervert the heart, and turn it from God.

AN ACCOUNT OF THE CEREMONY OF THE FESTIVAL, DOORGA POOJAH; AS APPOINTED IN THE CALIKA PURANAS.

PART I.—FIRST DAY'S WORSHIP.

1. The Preparation.—In the month of Asin, on the sixth day of the lunar month, the priest, after having performed the morning bathing and incantation, &c., begins, at ten o'clock A.M., with the preparation for the ceremony; viz. he throws upon the altar of earth (usually a foot and a half square, and raised a little) some white paddy: upon that he places a colshee, i. e. a water-pot filled with water. The pot is to have ornamental engravings: then mango-leaves are put on the mouth of the pot, and upon them is put a cocoa-nut: and then the pot is painted.

2. The Achumun, or Sipping.—The priest says, "Ong Vishnu!" and sips water from the palm of his right hand. Thus he says, and sips, three times. Then he continues: "Ong, as with open eyes the sky is seen, so the wise ever behold the excellent foot of Vishnu!" While he pronounces this, he touches, with the fourth finger of his right hand, his upper lip, under each nostril; then each of his eyes; then each of his ears; then his navel; then his stomach; then his two shoulders; then says again, "Ong Vishnu!" and sips water from the palm of his right hand;—and does it three times as above.

The Benediction.—(a) The priest takes a leaf of a tree in his right hand, with some white rice upon it: and says: "On account of performing the annual Doorga Poojah in the damp season, which is a duty, Ong, call ye this a holy day!" Responses: "Holy day! holy day! holy day!"—Priest: "Call ye it a blessed day!" R. "Blessed! blessed! blessed!"—P. "Again, call ye it a day of perfecting!" R. "Perfecting! perfecting! perfecting!"

(b) Then the priest continues: "May Indra, who listens to the old (viz. wise counsellors), give prosperity! May the Sun, which is acquainted with the Universe, give prosperity! May Gorul, half bird and man, and whoever destroys the enemies of happiness, give prosperity! May Jupiter give prosperity!"

4. The Invitation to witness the Ceremony.—"Sun and Moon, Angel of Death, Time, Morning and Evening, Elements, Day and Night, Wind and the Rulers of the Points, Earth and Sky, Movers in the Sky, and Gods, ye all do exist by the sovereign word of Brumha; according to it, be ye, as it were, present at this ceremony!"

5. The Vow.—"Worship to the prosperous Vishnu to-day! On the 6th day of the new month, in the month of Asin, I, of such a family and such a Brahmin, first worshipping Ganesa, &c., gods, &c., perform to-day the annual Doorga Poojah of the damp season, with the wish of pleasing her."

6. Consecration of the Water-pot.—The Gayutree is said first to the ground; viz. "Ong bhoorbhúbaswa, let us meditate on the excellent light of the god the Sun, which may direct our understanding Ong!" Then the Gayutree is repeated again to the paddy, then to the water-pot, then to the water in the pot, then to the mango-leaves on the pot, then to the cocoa-nut upon them.

7. The Priest inviting the Gods to reside in the Water-pot.—"Ganesa, &c., gods, come! come into this pot! remain in it! remain in it! and dwell in it, and accept of my worship!"

8. Worship of the Five Gods and Nine Planets.

(a) Meditation on Ganesa.—A short and stout body; the head of the greatest elephant; a portly paunch, and handsome; a glittering neck, by reason of the large black bees which are enamoured by the scent of the honey trickling down his chin; beautifier, by making red with the blood of the enemy, torn in pieces with the stroke of the elephant's tooth;—obeisance to the Sun of the daughter of the Himalaya mountain, the most talentful, the giver of perfections, and fulfiller of desires.

Worship of Ganesa.—"With this sandal-wood and flowers, obeisance to Ganesa! with this incense and light, obeisance to Ganesa! with this oblation, obeisance to Ganesa!"

(b) Meditation on the Sun.—"A seat composed of red water-lilies—an ocean of endless qualities. I worship the Sun, the master of the whole universe: his four hands are as beautiful as flowers, holding water-lilies in two of them; and in one the gift of being fearless; in the other, blessings. His head like a ruby; the limbs of his body shining like the morning, red, and possessed of three eyes."

Worship of the Sun.—"With this sandal-wood and flowers, obeisance to the Sun! with this incense and light, obeisance to the Sun! with this oblation, obeisance to the Sun!"

(c) Meditation on Vishnu.—Narayan is ever to be meditated upon, as residing in the midst of the circle of the Sun, and sitting upon a seat composed of flowers, wearing golden bracelets, earrings, crown, and a necklace; his body made of gold, holding a shell and an edged ring.

Worship of Vishnu.—"With this sandal-wood and flowers, obeisance to Vishnu! with this incense and light, obeisance to Vishnu! with this oblation, obeisance to Vishnu!"

(d) Meditation on Shib.—The great god (viz. Shib) shall ever be meditated upon, as shining like a silver mountain, wearing ear-rings like the beautiful moon; the body more splendid than all imaginable jewellery; holding in his four hands, a hatchet, a deer, gifts, and the gift of fearlessness. He has a smiling face, and a seat of water-lilies; is praised by all the gods; his cloth is a tiger's skin; he is the origin and root of the universe, and entire remover of all fear; has five faces and three eyes, viz. in each face three eyes.

Worship of Shib.—"With this sandal-wood and flowers, obeisance to Shib! with this incense and light, obeisance to Shib! with this oblation, obeisance to Shib!"

(e) Meditation on Doorga.—"Plaited hair, hanging down—a crest on her forehead, made in the form of a half-moon—possessed of three eyes—a countenance like the full moon—a complexion shining like melted gold, of the most respectable appearance—is in a fresh youthful condition; all her apparel are like ornaments; her teeth most beautiful; the breasts of the goddess are large and projecting; she stands crooked (or bowed) in three parts of her body, destroying the enemy Mohesh the bullock; she is adorned with ten arms, which form a connexion like the lotus, enumerating it downwards; she holds in her five right hands a trebled spear, a sword, an edged ring, a sharp arrow, and a reed like a spear; in her left hands she holds a staff, a completed bow, fetters of serpents, a pointed iron hook, and either a bell or a hatchet. Thus she looks both at the weapons, and beneath on the head, which is separated from Mohesh the bullock. In the place where the head of the bullock is cut off, comes out that Danob (inimical giant), with a sword in his hand: she thrusts a spear into his breast, and he puts out his teeth: his body is adorned (i. e. stained) with blood; his eyes are swollen and red; he makes an unnatural, frightful countenance, on account of the fetters of snakes which have twisted round him. Doorga holds, in her left hands, the tails of the snakes, and the hair of his (the enemy's) head. She beholds her lion, from whose mouth issues blood (from the bite which he gave the enemy). The right foot of the goddess stands straight upon the lion; and the great toe of the left foot is raised a little upon Mohesh the bullock. In this situation, the gods did behold and praise her; and she shall ever be meditated upon, as being surrounded with Ugrochunda, &c. &c., eight Powers (her female companions), and considered as nurse of the world, fulfiller of desires, giver of virtue, riches, and salvation."

Worship of Doorga.—"With this sandal-wood and flowers, obeisance to Doorga! with this incense and light, obeisance to Doorga! with this oblation, obeisance to Doorga!"

(f) Worship of the Planets.—"Obeisance to the Sun!—Obeisance to the Moon!—Obeisance to Mars!—Obeisance to Mercury!—Obeisance to Jupiter!—Obeisance to Venus!—Obeisance to Saturn!—Obeisance to Ráhú (viz. the ascending node, or, as is commonly believed, the separated head of a deity which had a dragon's tail)!—Obeisance to Ketu, (the descending node, or the dragon's tail separated from the deity mentioned above)!"

N.B.—The Pundits acknowledge that this abbreviated mode of worship of the planets arises from the priest's negligence. The appointed rubrics, when duly performed, would occupy the space of two hours: however, it may be that the priests becoming more enlightened is the reason of shortening the tiresome task.

9. The Priest invites, and brings a branch of the Bel-tree.—In cases where there is no bel-tree in the place of worship, a branch of that tree, containing two fruits, shall be invited and brought by this muntre.

"Ong bel-tree! native of the top of the snowy white hill in Keylas, on the Meru mountain, thou art ever beloved by Doorga! Bel-tree, produced on the top of the beautiful mountain, thou art the receptacle of Luckshee! thou art worthy to be taken! Come along with me! for thou art as worshipful as Doorga."

10. Consecration of another Water-pot.—Then another pot, filled with water, is put near the bel-tree or a branch of it, and consecrated in the same manner as the first pot. (See the above.)

11. Doorga is invited.—"Ong Brumha invited thee before the time which was established by the gods of old, in order to favour Ram by destroying Rabun. I also invite thee, on the evening of the 6th of the new month, in the month of Asin. As Indra, by inviting thee, obtained the kingdom in the regions of the gods, so I invite thee, for the sake of obtaining riches, dominion, and honour; and as by Ram, Rabun was destroyed, so shall I destroy my enemies!"

12. Vow of consecrating the Goddess in the Bel-tree.—"The Universe-pervading three-in-one, he is true. In the month of Asin, on such a day of the new month, I, of such a family, and such a Brahmin, shall perform to-day the consecration of the Goddess of the bel-tree, with incense, it being a part of the Doorga Poojah."

13. The Consecration itself.—A spacious plate, with the undermentioned twenty-one articles on it, is put near the bel-tree, or a branch of it; viz. ground sandal-wood, earth and stone, paddy, druba-grass, flowers, fruits, tyre, clarified butter, cakes, red powder, conch-shell, blacking for the eyes, Indian-saffron, mustard, gold, silver, copper, a wisp made of the cow's-tail, a looking-glass, and a light. The priest takes the sandal-wood in his right hand, touching the bel-tree with it (or the substituted branch), the pot and the water in it, the mango-leaves, the cocoa-nut, the ground, and the rice upon it; and says: "With this sandal-wood be, through incense, the consecration of Doorga, in this damp season!" Then he takes earth, touching the bel-tree, &c., and says again: "With this earth be, through incense, the consecration of Doorga, in this damp season!" Then he takes the stone, and touches the tree, &c., and says again: "With this stone be, through incense, the consecration, &c.!" Thus taking every article separately, he names it, and says the same muntre over, while touching the tree, &c.

14. Invitation of a Branch of the Bel-tree.—"Ong bel-tree, native of the top of the beautiful Himalaya mountain, &c. &c.!" (See No. 9. above.)

N.B.—The priest states that this muntre is intended as an atonement to the Deity, viz. the bel-tree, for the sin of breaking off a branch of it. The wood of this tree is the celebrated sandal-wood: however, that produced from the trees in Bengal has no scent, but receives the scent when mixed with that produced on the Himalaya; and therefore impositions frequently take place in this country in the trade in that wood.

15. Oblation to the Goblins, consisting of split peas and rice.—The priest throws split-peas and rice on the ground; and says, "Ye Goblins, who are rulers of the earth, remove from here, that I may worship the goddess to-day, undisturbed by Goblins; with these split-peas and rice, obeisance to the Goblins!"

16. The binding together of the Nine Branches. — The priest shall take a small plantain-tree, a leaf from the cuchoo-root, a leaf from the Indian saffron-root, a branch from the joantee-shrub, a branch from the bel-tree, a branch from the pomegranate, a branch from the oshuk-shrub, a leaf from the maan-tree, and a stack of straw, and bind these nine branches together with a string made of pad, a kind of hemp. Then the sipping. (See No. 2.)

[Here endeth the service of the First Day's Worship.]

Part II.—Service of the Second Day's Worship.

The priest, after having performed his daily morning bathing and incantation, proceeds with the above-mentioned nine branches to a clean river, or a tank, to be bathed.

1. The Sipping.—(See Part I. No. 2.)

2. The Vow of Bathing Doorga.—"The Universe pervading three in one, he is true. In the month of Asin, on the seventh day of the new month, I, of such a family, and such a Brahmin, shall bathe Doorga to-day in this water, with the wish of annihilating the sins committed in seven former births."

3. The Bathing of the Nine Branches. —N. B. By bathing these nine branches, Doorga is bathed, to whom the vow above has been made. When reading or repeating the following subdivisions down to (s), at each time a small pot of common water is poured upon the nine branches, which the priest holds in his left hand: when different waters are named, it is merely done in praise. From (t), to the end of the bathing, the liquids named are in reality poured upon the branches. The word translated "given" originally means, "given with obeisance."

(a) "Ong given to Doorga, who resides in the branch of the bel-tree!" While saying this, a handful of flowers is first thrown upon the branches, and then water poured upon them.

(b) "Plantain-tree! thou art resting on Vishnu's breast; obeisance to thee, nine branches! Thou art Siva's beloved; obeisance to thee!"

N. B. The nine branches are considered as one Deity.

(c) "Cuchoo-root! thou growest spontaneously in the wilderness, and art ever the giver of perfection: by bathing thee, is Doorga bathed: be thou conqueror every where! viz. by this bathing."

(d) "Saffron! thou art the form of Siva, and ever liked by him. Thou, O goddess (Saffron)! art the form of Siva: give all kinds of comforts!"

(h) "Be always at ease, O Doorga! thou art in the cheerful shrub, the destroyer of sorrow: thou art worshipped by me, O Doorga: be at rest, thou beloved of Siva!"

(i) "Maan! esteemed thou art in the esteem-plant, esteemed by the gods and demons. I bathe thee, O great goddess! give esteem to my family!"

(q) " The Sindoo River, the Byrub, the Shunatta, and as many rivers and pools that are upon the earth, let them all devoutly bathe thee with a golden vase !"

(r) " Let Duschue, the ruler of the snakes in the infernal regions, and all the snakes dwelling there, devoutly bathe thee with a golden vase !"

(s) " Be thou bathed with the goodly water of the heavenly Ganges, issuing from Vishnu, and flowing in Heaven, and which taketh away all sin !"

(v) " Then the branches shall be bathed with Punchogaya, while repeating the Gayutree; viz. " Ong Bhoorbubaswa, let us meditate on the excellent light of the god the Sun, which may direct our understanding Ong !"

N. B. Punchogaya is a mixture of milk, curds, clarified butter : this is the most sacred thing by which gods and Brahmins are sanctified.

(aa) Hroing on the hands, given, putting cocoa-nut water upon them.

(cc) Hreen to Doorga, given, pouring Teel-oil upon them.

4. The Bathing of the Nine Branches with Eight Pots of Water. — N.B. The branches are then brought before the house of worship, and bathed there.

(a) " The gods, Brumha, Vishnu, Siva, sprinkled thee with the water from the Ganges in heaven !" the priest pouring the first pot of water upon them.

(b) " May the wind devoutly sprinkle thee, O goddess of gods, with water from the clouds !"—pouring the second pot of water upon them.

(c) " May the dancers or singers of Paradise, viz. Indra's, sprinkle thee, O goddess of gods, with the water of the Surveesuttee !"—pouring the third pot of water upon them.

(d) " May Indra, &c. rulers of people, unitedly sprinkle thee with sea-water !" — pouring the fourth pot of water upon them.

(e) " May all the snakes of the infernal regions sprinkle thee with perfumed water, scented with seeds from the flowers !"—pouring the fifth pot of water upon them.

(f) " May the mountains sprinkle thee with water which trickled down from the snowy Himalaya mountains !" —pouring the sixth pot of water upon them.

(h) " May the disposers of riches, viz. eight Demi-gods, sprinkle thee, O goddess Doorga, possessed of eight kinds of goodnesses ! My worship to thee !"—pouring the eighth pot of water upon them.

5. The Worship of Goblins, and their Dispersion.—The priest takes an oblation of cleaved beans and rice, and says :—

(a) " Ong ye Goblins, Pretes, Peshach, hovering here on the ground, receive this oblation spread on the ground by me ! I have pleased you with the worshipped oblation of sandal-wood and flowers, &c. : depart then from this place, and look from a distance at the worship I perform !"

(b) The priest takes cleaved beans and rice in his hand, and says seven times, " Ong Phut !" and then proceeds: " Ong ! let all the Goblins, who are rulers of the ground, move away, that I may worship the goddess to-day undisturbed by Goblins !"

(c) " Btals, Peshach, Rakshus, and Snakes, be all persecuted by the weapons of Doorga, and depart from hence !"

6. The Worship of the Nine Branches.

(a) The nine branches are brought to the door of the house of worship; and then sandal-wood, flowers, incense, a light, and an oblation, are given to the Nine Branches; and said: "Given to Doorga, who dwells in the branch of the bel-tree."

(b) The nine branches are to be considered as the form of the goddess; and druba-grass and rice are put upon the head of the goddess: then she (the branches) is fanned with a wisp made of a cow's-tail, and gold, and rice; and things implying good omens are shown to her, with music.

7. The Ceremony of Bringing and Seating the Goddess in the House of Worship.—The priest, holding the seat of the goddess, viz. the board upon which the branches are laid, shall say:

(a) "O Chundee! come, come, come along, come along! enter the house of worship! Come into my house, O goddess, with thy eight powers; and accept of my worship, O beauty, for the sake of all kinds of happiness!"

(b) Having said the above, the goddess shall be moved with dancing, music, and singing; and shall be put upon the altar, turning the face either east or south.

(c) Then the priest proceeds: "Ong, Oúng! hreeng! staang! stheeng! obeisance to thee, O Doorga! be at rest!"

(d) Then shall Luckshee, which is Rice, be established on the right side of the goddess; and Thorosoty, which is Ink, on her left side. The meaning is, that rice is put at her right side, and ink at her left side.

8. The Consecration of a Water-pot.—

(a) Then shall a painted water-pot be put upon barley or white paddy, and upon the pot shall be put sprouts of the mango-tree.

(b) Then shall the pot be consecrated, by repeating the Gayutree; viz. "Ong bhoorbubaswa! let us meditate on the excellent light of the god the Sun, which may direct our understanding Ong!"

(c) Then this is pronounced to the pot: "Be ye Ganges, Jamuna, Gotabory, Thorosoty, Normady, Sindoocabury (six rivers), present in the water of this pot."

9. The Looking upon the Flowers and Offerings.—The priest shall look upon all the flowers and offerings, while saying, "Hang! heeng! khoong! hroong! phut!"

10. Imprecation and Dispersion of the Goblins.

(a) "All ye Goblins, hovering in the ground! all ye Goblins, that create distress! be ye destroyed by the command of Siva!" When saying this muntre, he shall strew white mustard-seed on the ground.

(b) Then the priest shall stamp with his left foot three times on the ground, to drive away the disturbers in the ground, i. e. the goblins in the ground: then he shall clap his hands three times upward toward the sky, to drive away the disturbers of it: then he shall look round about him, with a profound look, to drive away the disturbers of the atmosphere.

11. Consecration of the Priest's Seat.

(a) The priest touches his seat, and says: "The top of the Meru mountain is the sage, Sútolong is the metre, the Turtle is the object, and it is appointed for sitting down upon the seat."

(b) "Ong Earth! upholders of the people, goddess (Earth)! thou art upheld by Vishnu: and thou also upholdest me continually: sanctify this seat!"

(c) "Ong, the receptacle is strong, and the seat tender; worship to it!" By the above, the seat is worshipped; and saying, "Auphot," he shall sit upon it, with his face northward.

12. Miscellaneous Worship.

(a) The priest says, on the left side, obeisance to the Gooroo, viz. the priest's teacher and spiritual guide.

(b) On the right side, obeisance to Ganesa.

(c) In the middle, obeisance to Doorga.

(d) On the head, obeisance to the Sage Narrod.

(e) At the mouth, obeisance to the Stanya (called the Gayutree and the Metres).

(f) On the chest, obeisance to Doorga.

(g) Then adds, "I am engaged in the worship of Doorga, for the sake of getting all my desires fulfilled."

13. The Benediction.—(See Part I. No. 3.)

14. The Vow.—(See Part I. No. 5.) The very same, with the exception of the date.

15. The Pranayam, or Breathing.—The priest shuts his right nostril with the thumb of his right hand, inhaling air at the same time only through his left nostril, till he has inaudibly repeated sixteen times the root muntre "Hreeng."

Then he shuts his left nostril also with the fourth finger, while he keeps in the inhaled breath till he has said "Hreeng" sixty-four times. Then he lets the breath pass through his right nostril, while he says "Hreeng" sixteen times again.

16. Decking the body with the Alphabet.—The priest pronounces the letters, and touches each part of his body: he speaks thus: "Ong on the head," touching his head; "Ang on the face," touching his face; "Eng and Eeng on the eyes;" "Ung and Oong on the ears;" "Ring and Rung on the nose;" "Sing and Seeng on the cheeks;" "Eng and Eeng on the lips;" "Ong and Oúng on the teeth."

N.B. Letters being supposed to be of divine origin, and therefore sacred; by pronouncing the letters to each part of the body, the priest thinks that it is meant for sanctifying the whole body. Some suppose, that, in ancient times, they wrote the Alphabet all over the body. Some instances are still to be met with, where devotees do write letters upon their bodies. This brings to mind the phylacteries of the Pharisees.

17. Decking of the Limbs.—The priest touches those parts of the body which he names. "O Doorga on the chest!" touching the chest with his hand.—"O Doorga on the lock of hair, Vusut!"—"O guardian from goblins on the hands, Hing!"—"O Doorga, O Doorga, guardian Swaha on the three eyes, Bousut!"—"O Doorga, Doorga, Astrayuphut, viz. on the instruments!" (Upon the meaning of this latter term, the learned are not agreed.)

18. Decking of the Hands.—The priest touching those of his fingers which he names. "O Doorga on the thumbs!" touching with the forefingers the thumbs.—"O Doorga on the forefingers, Swaha!" touching them with the thumbs.—"O Doorga on the middle fingers, Busut!"—"O guardian from Goblins, on the fourth fingers, Hung!"—"O Doorga, guardian Swaha, on the little fingers, Bousut!"—"O Doorga, guardian, on the palms and backs of the hands, Phut!"

19. Worship of Miscellaneous Objects.—N.B. A flower is thrown into the water-pot intended for the person or things that are named: in each of the following instances, numu, i.e. "given," must be supplied by the reader in each phrase:

"To the strong receptacle in the heart given—To the female—To the milky ocean—To the island of jewels——To the altar of precious stones—To the wishing-tree, a tree corresponding to the wishing-cap—To the altar of jewels—On the left side in the pot to virtue—On the right side to science—Where the left leg joins the body, to riches—In the face, to vice—At the left side, to ignorance—In the navel, to absence of passions—At the root of the right of the right nails, to passions—At the right side, to poverty. In the heart, to the flower."

N.B. The water-pot to which the worship is addressed is here figuratively taken for the body of a man: some suppose that the qualities named are residing in those parts mentioned. Some European mysteries do not much differ from this.

"Ang to the globe of the sun—Mung to the globe of fire—Sung to the true poverty—Tung to the property of dark influence—Ang to the spirit—Ang to the in-dwelling spirit—Pung to the supreme spirit—Hreeng to the spirit of sensitiveness—Eem to illusion—Oong to Juya (Doorga's Maid Companion)—Eung to Sushwa—Oing to Brisudha—Ong to Nondenu—Owng to Suprobha—Ang to victory."

20. The Meditation on Doorga.

(a) Plaited hair hanging down, &c. (See Part I. No. 8. e.)

(b) Having finished the meditation, the priest shall put flowers upon his head, and make obeisance to her in his mind.

21. Consecration of the common Orgha Shell.—(a) "Astrayaphut!" Having said this, the shell is washed; then is made, on the left side, a mark on the ground in the form of a triangle; the shell is put upon it; and then upon the shell is put sandal-wood, flowers, and rice, by saying, "Numu!"

(b) Then are the letters of the whole Alphabet repeated backward, beginning at the last; just as in the English, from z to a. At the pronunciation of each of the letters, water is sprinkled on the shell; thus he says, "Kshung!" and sprinkles water on the shell. "Hang!" and again sprinkles water on it, and so on with each letter till "Ang." By repeating the above letters, each letter is considered as a muntre, having the nasal ng.

(c) On account of pronouncing the above muntres, viz. Alphabet; the receptacle, viz. triangle, is to be considered as the Sun, and the water in it the Moon, and worshipped as such.

(d) "Mung numu, to the circle of the fire!" which consists of ten parts of spirits.

(e) "Ang, obeisance to the circle of the sun!" which consists of twelve parts of spirits.

(f) "Eang, obeisance to the circle of the moon!" which consists of sixteen parts of spirits.

(g) "Ong be ye, Ganges, Jumuna, Godabory, Thorosoty, Normady, Lindhoocavory (six rivers), be ye present in this water, i.e. the water in the shell!"

(h) Again, the water in the shell shall be considered as Doorga, and worshipped, by covering the shell over with the hands, and saying "Hreeng!" eight times.

(i) Then, to secure three quarters of the points, the hands shall be clapped three times. Then is every article for the Poojah to be made immortal, by showing them the form of a cow; which is made by twisting the fingers together in that form; after which a washing-basin is washed, and placed at the right side of the shell; and some water, sandal-wood, and flowers, put into it; then the places of pilgrimages are invited to it; then the priest sprinkles some of the water out of the basin on his own head, and on the articles used for the Poojah. Then is Ganesa, &c. worshipped in the water-pot. (See Part I. No. 8, from (a) to (e). Then Cartica. (See Part II. No. 26.)

N.B.—This is done that no Goblins may encroach the marks in which the shell lies.

22. The Communication of Life to the Image Doorga.—(a) The priest puts the three first fingers of his right hand on the chest of the image, and says the seed muntre: "Ong, Ang, Hreeng, Kroung, Jung, Rung, Lung, Vung, Shung, Sung, Sung, Houng, Hungsa, be Doorga's breath the breath in this image!"

(b) Again repeating the above sounds, beginning from the second sound, "Ang," to the end, and says, "Be Doorga's life the life of this image!"

(c) Thus he shall go on to repeat the above sounds, beginning at "Ang," and say, "Be all the organs of Doorga the organs of this body!"

(d) Thus, after every repetition of the above sounds, he shall say, "Be Doorga's speech in this body, be Doorga's mind, be Doorga's sight, hearing, smelling, pervading in this, and remain in happiness for a long time in this image!"

23. The Invitation of Doorga.

(a) "Come goddess, with thy eight powers, into my house! accept of my ritual worship for the sake of all kinds of happiness!"

(b) "Come, come, worshipful Doorga! destroy the enemies, and give victory! I worship thee devoutly! O new or youthful Doorga! thou who art worshipped by the gods, come near, O goddess Doorga, at this ceremony!"

(c) "Accept with thy eight powers, viz. Companions, the portions of the gifts of the worship! O tender-eyed, great goddess, humbler of the pride of the demons! allow me to make this worship of the damp season! Redeem, O destroyer of all sins, from the ocean of this world, which is hard to pass over! give blessings, O goddess, beloved by Siva, obeisance to thee! In honour to thee, great goddess Chundee, I invite to this worship of thine all the male and female gods, both those who are going from this place, and who are coming. Preserve my life, my honour, my children, wife, and riches, thou goddess beloved by the world!"

(d) "Enter into this altar, and remain in it while I make Poojah! goddess who givest pleasure, to Minuca, her mother, give me all perfections!"

(e) "Come, O goddess Doorga, for the sake of all happiness, accept of my worship! obeisance to thee, Beauty, thou beloved by Siva!"

(f) "I invite thee, goddess, either in the earth, viz. into the image made of earth, or into the bel-tree! goddess, who art come from the top of the Cailasa, the Himalaya mountain, come into the branch of the bel-tree!"

(g) "Goddess, thou art established by me, I worship thee; be pleased with me, goddess Doorga, who assumest, at times, terrific shapes, take possession of the branch of the bel-tree, and rest in it with thy companions!"

(h) "Goddess! thou art the mother of the world; the creator, and the destroyer! thou occupiest all the branches, viz. all the nine branches mentioned, and art invited by this ceremony. O goddess! be fully at rest, either in the earth or in the bel-tree, and fulfil the wishes of my family!"

(i) "Doorga, thou art the form of terror, the vigour and mighty strength of the gods! enter and remain in this altar, while I make worship!"

(j) Then shall flowers be given, with joined hands five times.

24. The Worship of Ganesa.—(a) "Ong, god with one tooth and an elephant's head, remover of all distress, thou art beloved and worshipped in the house of the goddess, thou destroyer of all distress!"

25. Worship of the Five Gods, Nine Planets, and the Ten Rulers of the Points.

(a) (See the Worship of the Five Gods and Nine Planets, Part I. No. 8.)

(b) 1. Obeisance to Indra, ruler of the people, and his thunderbolt. 2. Obeisance to the fire, his spear, and his family. 3. Obeisance to Death, his stick, and his family. 4. Obeisance to Vireeto, his sword, and his family. 5. Obeisance to Borun, his strings, and his family. 6. Obeisance to the Wind, his iron-hook, and his family. 7. Obeisance to Coover, his club, and his family. 8. Obeisance to Esha, his spear, and his family. 9. Obeisance to Brumha, above, viz. ruler of the point above the horizon, to his flowers, and his family. 10. Obeisance to Bishto below the earth, viz. Ruler of the Point in the infernal regions, to his ring, and his family. To each of the Ten Rulers is a flower given, with saying obeisance.

26. Worship of Cartica.

(a) Meditation on Cartica.—"Son of Siva, shining like the light of fire! son of the daughter of the mighty king among the mountains, possessed of mildness of six faces, holding a reed-like spear; arrayed with glittering ornaments, which outshine that of gold, beautified with sun-like yellow pigments; destroyer of the race of the demons, with which the gods are pleased; on such a mighty Cartica I meditate!"

N.B.—This pigment is made of the urine of the cow, and much esteemed by the Hindoos.

(b) His Praises.—"Beloved General of the gods, successful in the accomplishment of his intention, who holds the reed-like spear in his hand, worship to thee, Son of Siva!"

27. Worship of Miscellaneous Objects and Names.—N.B. Sandal-wood and flowers are put in the consecrated water-pot, at the pronunciation of each of the following sentences. The repetition of "given," and "with this sandal-wood and flowers," is omitted in the translation.

(a) "With this sandal-wood and flowers, obeisance to the strong receptacle, to the Turtle, to the earth, to the ocean of milk, to the island of jewellery; to the meeting-place of the monies, to the wishing-tree, to the altar of jewellery!"

(b) "In the four corners or points, viz. in South-east, South-west, North-east, North-west, to virtue, to knowledge, to absence of passions, to riches!"

(c) "In the four points, North, East, South, West, to vice, to ignorance, to passions, to poverty!"

(d) "In the centre. To the end, to the flower; Ang to the circle of the sun; Ung to the circle of the moon; Mung to the circle of fire; Sung to the excellent property; Tung to the property of dark influence; Ang to the spirit; Ang to the indwelling spirit; Rung to the Supreme Spirit; Hreeng to the spirit of sensitiveness."

(e) "Between each of the eight points; Ang to light; Ung to deception, &c.; to eight of Doorga's female companions."

(f) "Again in the centre. To the mighty lion possessed of the thunderbolt-like claw, and invincible tooth, Hung Phut."

28. Worship of Doorga, with Sixteen Gifts.—With obeisance and circumambulating are to be given the sixteen articles appointed for the worship of Doorga; viz. a seat, &c. &c. as mentioned below.

(a) The seat.—The priest laying hold on a small leaf of gold, says, "Receive this seat, O beautiful Doorga, great goddess, mother of the world! Save, O Doorga, and give me a place with thee!"

(b) The inquiry after the goddess.—"O goddess Doorga! have you arrived happily here?"

(g) Then water for sipping shall be offered again as above.

(h) Then taking water for bathing.—"Receive, goddess, this ever pure and pleasant cold water, which I devoutly have prepared for thy bathing!"

(i) Then taking the cloth.—"Most beautiful goddess, receive this white cloth, which is joined together of many threads of pat, and coloured with red colour by the weavers! O goddess Doorga, be pleased and wear this cloth!" This is however merely said: the cloth is not put on the image, because it would be thrown into the water with the image.

(j) Then the ornaments—usually a finger-ring. The muntre to it is omitted in the copy.

(k) Then taking sandal-wood—"I do not understand thy body, neither do I know how to search it. Receive this sandal-wood, which I give thee with obeisance to smear the body with!"

(l) Then taking the flowers—"Receive, goddess, these pleasant, excellent, and well-scented flowers, made by the gods! may the wonderful scent of it go into thy heart!"

(m) Then laying hold of a burning light—"Receive this light, the rays of which are superior to the rays of the fire, to the rays of the sun, to the rays of the moon, and to any other rays!" (The priest states, that this is merely said in praises of the light, the general explanation of such-like cases.)

(n) Then taking eye-blacking—"Obeisance to thee, goddess above all! give happiness and salvation! Receive, goddess, this eye-blacking, given to thee into the heart, i.e. in the apple of the eye!" (some of it is put into the eye of the image.)

(g) "Oshuk Shrub, thou destroyer of sorrow, dost please Siva and Doorga, therefore remove my sorrow! Worship to the freeness of sorrow, dwelling in the Oshuk Shrub!" (The name of this shrub means freeness of sorrow; perhaps it received its name because it is ever growing.

4. The Decking of Limbs.

(a) "To Doorga in the heart numu!"

(b) "To Doorga in the head Swaha!"

(c) "To Doorga in the lock of hair Vushut!"

(d) "To the guardian from Goblins in the wrist, Hung." (When pronouncing these four muntres, four flowers are given.)

(e) "To Doorga, the guardian in the three eyes!"

(f) "O Doorga, Doorga, guardian Astrayaphut!"

5. Worship of Eight Female Companions of Doorga, performed in a Flower of Eight Leaves. N.B. This flower is formed by throwing pounded rice on the ground, in the figure of a flower with eight leaves.

(a) To the leaf eastward of the flower shall Ugra Chunda be invited and worshipped with water for washing the feet, and all the other articles mentioned in Part II. No. 28. from (c) to (o); and then be said: "Give blessing thou Ugra Chunda, who shinest like the sun in the meridian! prove a blessing to me! Ever, ever, obeisance to thee! With this sandal-wood and flowers, Hreeng, Shreeng, obeisance to Ugra Chunda!" Thus to each of the remaining seven leaves is invited a companion of Doorga, and worshipped in the same way as mentioned above, and by giving the same gifts.

6. Worship of Sixty-four Female Companions of Doorga.—N.B. Each is separately invited and worshipped, by giving water for washing the feet and sipping, as mentioned in Part II. No. 28. from (c) to (o); omitting praising the gifts.

Thus, "With this water for washing the feet, Hreeng, Shreeng, obeisance to Bramhanee! With this shell, Hreeng, Shreeng, obeisance to Bramhanee!" And so on, in this way, the remaining Sixty-three Female Companions are worshipped.

7. Then shall be worshipped before Doorga her crore of Female Companions, without distinction, by saying, "Hreeng, Sreeng, obeisance to the crore of Female Companions!"

8. Worship of the Female Forms of Male Gods.

(a) Then shall Bramhanee be invited to the North-east side of the goddess, and worshipped.—"Four-faced-world upholder, rider on the goose, giver of gifts, form of creating, Bramhanee, thou mighty instrument, to-day I worship thee! Hreeng, Sreeng, obeisance to Bramhanee!"

(b) Then shall the great goddess, Doorga, be invited and worshipped.—"Great goddess, rider upon the bullock, three-eyed and of a fair complexion, giver of gifts, great goddess Siva, destroyer of the creation, to-day my obeisance to thee, great goddess!"

(c) Then shall Cartica be invited and worshipped.—"Princess, wearing yellow dress, rider upon the best conveyance, the peacock holding the reed-like spear, and of a fair complexion, ever giver of gifts, I make obeisance! Hreeng, Sreeng, obeisance to the princess!"

(d) Then shall Boishtubee be invited and worshipped.—"Holder of the shell, the edged ring, the club, and the flower, form of Krishnu, form of preservation, rider upon the Gorul, Voishtubee, to-day I make obeisance to thee!"

(e) Then shall Borahee, viz. half sow and woman, be invited and worshipped.—"Goddess, female form of the boar, lifter up of the earth with one tooth, thou who art dressed in yellow cloth, giver of happiness, sow, to-day I make obeisance to thee! Hreeng, Sreeng, obeisance to the sow!"

(f) Then shall Naaruseenghee, or half woman and lioness, be invited, and worshipped.—"Goddess, who art the female form of half lioness and woman, who didst humble the pride of the demons and giants, thou art of a fair complexion, and giver of happiness; to-day I make obeisance to thee, half woman and lioness!"

(g) Then shall Indranee be invited and worshipped.—"Indranee, rider upon the neck of the elephant, possessed of a thousand sparkling eyes, giver of gifts, I make obeisance to thee! O goddess, worshipped by all the gods, Hreeng, Sreeng, worship to Indranee!"

(h) Then shall Chumunta be invited and worshipped.—"Chumunta, incarnation of Doorga, thou hast destroyed the enemy by the name of Munta, thou art adorned by the beads of Munta, thou art of a half smiling face, I worship thee for my own improvement! Hreeng, Sreeng, worship to Chumunta!"

9. Worship of Doorga.—(a) "Hreeng, Sreeng, obeisance to Chundeca!"

(b) "Catyayanew," (Doorga, resembling the wife of a Saye,) "possessed of ten hands; thou hast destroyed the enemy Mohesh the bullock; thou givest gifts and blessings with a cheerful countenance to-day; obeisance to thee! Hreeng, Sreeng, worship to the Chundeca!" (The name of Doorga, in the form of the image which is worshipped at this festival.)

(c) "Chundee, new Doorga, charmer of Siva, accept of my worship! save me, goddess of the gods! Hreeng, Sreeng, obeisance to Doorga!"

(d) Then shall flowers be given to the goddess, by saying, "Hreeng, Sreeng!"

10. Worship of Joantee, &c. before Doorga.—"With this sandal-wood and flowers, Hreeng, Sreeng, obeisance to Joantee!"

In this way, ten more of her Companions are to be worshipped with sandal-wood and flowers, saying, "Hreeng, Sreeng."

11. Worship of Doorga's Weapons.—N.B. The weapons mentioned below are made of the same matter as the image (wood and mud). The worship begins with those placed in her five right hands.

(a) Trebled Spear.—"Of all the warlike weapons, thou, threefold spear, wast first invented by Siva, and art composed of the essence of his trebled spear; thou art holden with the fist, for the sake of good. Obeisance to the trebled spear!"

(b) The Sword.—"Sharp-edged sword; it is hard to face thee; thy beautiful semicircle is victorious, and protecting religion. Obeisance to thee! obeisance to the sword!"

(c) The Edged-Ring.—"Edged-ring, thou art the form of Vishnu, always serving for the side-arms of Vishnu, and ever in the hands of the goddess, beautiful-looking. Obeisance to thee! obeisance to the beautiful!"

(d) Sharp Arrow.—"Of all the warlike weapons, thou art the most superior, subduing the army of giants, always delivering from fear. Sharp arrow, obeisance to thee! obeisance to the sharp arrow!"

(e) The Reed-like Spear.—"Thou reed-like spear, thou art used by all the gods, particularly Cartica; thou art the form of power; save everywhere! obeisance to thee!"

(f) In the left hands.—"The Staff.—Club, thou art the form of a staff, thou art the destroyer of the enemies, holden in the hand of the goddess, ever protect me! obeisance to the staff!"

(g) The Bow.—"Among all the warlike weapons, thou only art mighty; thou dost subdue the enemies of the gods. Bow, together with the best arrow, protect me everywhere! obeisance to the complete bow!"

(h) Fetters of Snakes.—"Fetters, thou art the form of serpents, whose belly is filled with venom ever insufferable to the enemies; fetters of serpents, obeisance to thee, fetters of serpents!"

(i) The Iron Hook.—"Obeisance to the Iron Hook, the director of elephants; thou art beautifully holden in Doorga's hand, ever to protect men; obeisance to the iron hook!"

(j) The Bell.—"Bell! thy sound fills the world, and weakens the strength of the demons; as a child is protected, so thou, goddess, protect and save from all sin! obeisance to the bell!"

(k) The Double Hatchet.—"Double hatchet, exceedingly sharp, destroyer of the enemies of the gods, situated in the hands of the goddess; destroyer of the enemies and giver of victory; obeisance to the double hatchet!"

12. Worship of the Goddess, and her Ornaments, &c.

(a) "Hreeng, Sreeng, obeisance to Doorga, armed with all the warlike weapons!"

(b) "Obeisance to her crest, and all the ornaments on the body of the goddess!"

(c) "Obeisance to the mighty Lion, possessed of a thunderbolt-like claw and invincible tooth; Hung Phut!" viz. the lion upon which she stands.

(d) "Doorga's seat is adorned with all kinds of ornaments, splendid like the top of the Himalaya mountain; obeisance to the throne!" viz. the board or reed upon which the image stands.

13. Worship to the Brahmin Lads, &c.

(a) "Hreeng, obeisance to the perfect son, giving sandal-wood and flowers, &c.!"

(b) "Hreeng, obeisance to the proper-born son, giving sandal-wood and flowers!"—N.B. Thus in all the following names, Hreeng and obeisance is said, and Katropal added, and sandal-wood, &c. given.

(c) "To Katucaya Katropal, the distresser of children, to the tongues of fire (seven in number), to the fiery Goblin, to time, to coral, or one of the seven fiery tongues, to flower, to Bheem."

14. Worship of the Bhoirobs, or Terrific Ones.

(a) "Obeisance to the black Terrific One."—N.B. Thus to each of the following is "Terrific" added.

(b) "To the Ruru or roaring."

(c) "To the hot-headed; the angry; the crazy; the terrible; to Gopal; to the horrible; to the destroying."

15. Worship of the Ten Rulers of the Points. (See PART II. No. 25.)

[Here endeth the Service of the Third Day's Worship.]

PART IV.—THE FOURTH DAY'S WORSHIP.

1. The priest begins, and goes through the ceremony of sanctifying his seat; decking, consecrating the orgha-shell, &c. &c., as stated above. Afterward is performed the ceremony of feeding and dressing a Brahmin Girl, which is unconnected with worship; and, last of all, the rehearsing of the vow of giving priests' gifts. Thus:

"The Universe pervading three in one, he is true. In the month of Asin, &c. &c., I do give, to-day, in the name of the family, according to circumstances, gifts and gold, which is the divinity of Vishnu; or the value of gold, in order to finish my hitherto profound worship of this Doorga-Poojah in the damp season."

N.B.—Each god is supposed to consist of a metal, as men of earth. Vishnu is of gold; and therefore it is said gold, which is the divinity of Vishnu.—(See the Meditation on Vishnu, Part II. No. 8.)

Interrogation.—"Is the performed work to be finished?" If Brahmins are present, they answer, "Be it so."

[Here endeth the Service of the Fourth Day's Worship.]

PART V.—THE FIFTH DAY'S WORSHIP.

1. After the Morning's usual Ceremonies are over, the goddess, viz. the image, is to be worshipped by giving some oblations, viz. some fruit, flowers, or rice, at option.

2. The worship of Luckshee.—"Obeisance to her who dwells in purity, i.e. in the flowers!" When saying it, three handsful of flowers are thrown into the water-pot.

3. The priest bows to the goddess, and says: "O Doorga, Doorga, preserve me at the gates of the gods, at the banks of rivers, at the gates of rulers, in dangers, in travelling over mountains! My worship, goddess, to thee!"

4. Then he says: "I do not know how to invite thee, neither do I know how to immerse thee, viz. how to throw thee in the water. I am ignorant of the ordinance of worship; great goddess, pardon me!"

5. Then he shall touch the goddess with three fingers of his right hand, and say: "Go along, go along, great goddess, to thine own excellent dwelling! The worship done by me, O goddess, is now finished."

6. "Plantain-tree, Cuchoo-root, &c. trees; also the female companions of Doorga, likewise the Mothers; come again, to humble the pride of my enemies!"

7. The sending off the Goddess.—"Arise, goddess, Chumunta, accept of the goodly worship, and go along into the stream of water; but, for riches' sake, goddess, remain in my house!"

8. The Immersion of the Goddess.—When the image is thrown into the water, this is said: "With worship, immersed in water, and the nine branches thrown into the water, for increase of children, long life and riches, thou art established by me in this water!"

9. Then shall music be made with the Shell, with the Menud, the Kretunga, the Burdoa, while dust and mud is to be thrown round about, and such-like amusements and pleasing plays performed.

ACCOUNT OF THE CEREMONY OF "THE PURIFICATION OF THE ELEMENTS, i.e. OF THE BODY."

Putting the back part of the right hand into the palm of the left, and stroking the body with them from the lap up to the scull, and saying the sound "Sohung, the spirit of life" (soul), which is in the form of the twinkling point of a light, together with the snake resting in the receptacle, are carried up and joined to the supreme spirit which dwells in the crown of the one-thousand-leafed flower, which is situated under the crown or top of the scull, the upper part of which flower is fixed upside down. To effect this junction, the six leaves in the body are to be cleaved, and the vein, called Susumna, forms the passage through which the spirit of life, together with the snake, are carried up. Then to the above junction, viz. the soul, snake, and supreme spirit, is further to be joined, the twenty-four Tutdwa, or principal essences of nature, i.e. Earth, Water, Light, Wind, Sky, Scent, Form, Juice, Touch, Voice, Nose, the Organ of Smelling, Tongue, Skin, the Eyes, Ears, Speech, Hands, Feet, Arms, the female power, the Mind, the Understanding, and Self; and, in addition to these twenty-four Tutdwa is added, the excellent Tutdwa. These twenty-five Tutdwas are to be considered as living Beings, and, in succession, are absorbed in each other thus. The earth is absorbed into water, water into fire, fire into wind, wind into sky, the sky into self; and those Tutdwas arising from Self or formal existence, such as the organs mentioned above, are absorbed into the excellent Tutdwa, and the excellent Tutdwa into the female power, and the female power into the Supreme Spirit. This performance shall be thought to have been done, so as above said.

2. The sound "Jung," which is the seed muntre of the wind, shall be thought to have the colour of smoke, and the right nostril is to be shut with the thumb of the right hand; and to fill the body with wind, it is inhaled through the left nostril, till the sound "Jung" is muttered sixteen times. Then is the left nostril shut with the little finger of the right hand, and the breathing entirely suspended, till the sound "Jung" is muttered sixty-four times. Then is the left nostril opened, and the wind inhaled through it, till the sound "Jung" is muttered thirty-two times; by which the men of sin, who sit in the left side of the body, together with the whole body, are purified.

N.B. Instead of "purified," the copy of the Calika Puranas reads, "to be made dry," viz. for burning.

3. The sound "Rung," which is the seed muntre of fire, shall be considered to be of a red colour. The right nostril is to be shut with the thumb; and to fill the body with wind, the air is inhaled through the left nostril, while muttering sixteen times the sound "Rung." Then is the left nostril closed, and the breath suspended till the sound "Rung" is muttered sixty-four times, by which the man of sin and the whole body is burned. Then, while muttering "Rung" thirty-two times, the breath is inhaled through the left nostril, by which the ashes of the burned are breathed out.

4. The sound "Hreeng" (sounded hard), which is the seed muntre of the Moon, shall be considered to be of a white colour; and the left nostril is shut, and air inhaled through the right, till "Hreeng" is muttered sixteen times; by which the Moon shall be brought into the forehead between the eyes and nose. Then the left nostril is shut, and the breathing suspended till the sound "Vung," which is the seed muntre of the Water, is pronounced sixty-four times; by which the body shall be sprinkled with the nectar or immortal water raining down from the Moon, which is in the form of the mothers, viz. vowels of the Alphabet joined with the nasal sound. Then is the right nostril opened, and the breath inhaled through it, till the sound "Sung," the root muntre of the Earth and that of Indra, is pronounced thirty-two times, by which the body shall be thought to be purified.

Then, by pronouncing the muntre "Sohung," the life and the snake by the passage of the vein called Susumna, and all the other Tutdwas, shall be again established in their own respective places.

The above is the purifying of the elements: here endeth it.

N.B. The muntre "Sohung" means, "that I am, viz. the Supreme Spirit, and every thing mentioned above." See Professor Wilson's Sanscrit Dictionary, on the word Tutdwa.

ACCOUNT OF THE CEREMONY OF THE "CONSECRATION OF A COLSHEE OR KEDGEEREE-POT."

(a) The priest touches the ground and says: "Ung, thou art earth, thou art the nourisher, thou art mother of the gods, and of the giant demons! Thou giver of liquid to the universe, upholder of the universe, worlds, give me earth; viz. place for establishing the Kedgeeree-pot! Make the earth prosperous; do not injure it!"

N.B. The worlds of the universe are said to be fourteen in number: seven constitute the heavens, and seven the hells. The lowest of the seven heavens is Bhoo, i.e. the earth, or the globe inhabited by men. Upon this earth the remaining other six heavens are resting; and the seven hells are joined below to the earth, all forming one mass. The supposed inherent deity is here addressed.

(b) The priest, touching the rice, continues: "Ung, rice, thou satisfiest the gods, thou satisfiest the offering, viz. givest supply for it; thou dost satisfy the Lord to whom the offering is made. Satisfy also me, the officiating priest!"

(c) Touching the Colshee or Kedgeeree-pot—"Ung, O earth! lay hold of, or receive, this pot with the water which has entered into it!" Again: "O earth, remove that weakness or low spirit of ours! Thou art rich in milk, to give streams of juice to thousands of the vegetable life; give, then, rich increase to me, viz. in my fields!"

(d) Touching the water in the Kedgeree-pot: "Ung, thou art Vorun's means of giving increase, i.e. growth; thou art Vorun's pacific waters, which were in existence to be the substance for the creation. Thou art Vorun's fluid residence. Thou, O luminous house of Vorun, enter in, viz. into the Kedgeeree-pot!"

N.B. The Commentator says: "Thou, O water, which art such a splendid residence in which Vorun resides, may Vorun condescend to enter, with this his noble dwelling, into such an inferior house as that of a Kedgeeree-pot!"

(e) The sprouts of trees: "Ung, by the sprouts I shall be victorious in speech, and virtuous in war; by the sprouts, I shall conquer heat and drukenness. The trees shall destroy the ill wishes of my enemies: the sprouts shall make me victorious in all quarters of the globe."

(f) The fruit of trees: "Ung, the creepers, productive like the mother of Jupiter, or mothers of all the gods; those bearing fruit, and those not having fruit; those in blossom, and those which are not in blossom; may they deliver us from our sins!"

(g) The flowers: "Ung, O Vishnu! whose wives are the Earth and Luckshee, and whose sides are Day and Night, viz. whose eves are Sun and Moon, with both of which ever receiving, i.e. ever beholding continually every thing, enter into this flower of mine!"

N.B. The Commentator says, not meaning the flower in the head, but the flower in the chest—"Make known to me that thou art pervading all things!"

(h) The fixing, viz. that of light or of fire: "Ung, be of a steady body, and be quiet, and enjoy the offerings! O fire! moving vehicle, giver of pleasure, enter thou into this city, viz. into the Kedgeeree-pot!"

(i) The painting of the Kedgeeree-pot:—"Ung, as the tender body of clouds, when extensively expanded by the wind, throws the streams of the ocean into the atmosphere; so the fire, by its flames, separates the wood, and carries the streams of clarified butter, of those who are void of anger, unto the gods."
